GEORGIA TURPENTINE OPERATORS WIN SUIT IN SUPREME COURT

Convictions Against Nash, Myers, Shotter, Boardman and Moller Set Aside by U. S. Supreme Court

CONVICTED ON CRIMINAL CLAUSE OF SHERMAN LAW

Sentences Ranged From Three Months in Jail to Fines of $5,000—Erroneous Instruction by Trial Judge

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Convictions of five officials of the American Naval Stores company of Savannah—the so-called turpentine trust—for criminal violation of the Sherman law were set aside by the supreme court because of an erroneous instruction of the trial judge. Justice Pitney was the only dissension to the opinion.

Officials of the department of justice, however, did not regard the decision as one generally unfavorable to the criminal section of the Sherman law. They never considered that they had a strong case.

SENTENCES AND FINE.

Edmund S. Nash, president of the company, had been fined $3,000; J. F. Cooper Myers, vice president, fined $2,500, and sentenced to jail for three months; Spencer P. Shotter, chairman of the board, fined $5,000, and sentenced to jail for three months; George Meade Boardman, treasurer, fined $5,000, and Carl Moller, manager of the Jacksonville branch, fined $5,000.

All these sentences were set aside. Shotter's and Myers' cases were the first convictions for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law carrying jail sentences to come before the supreme court.

The trial judge instructed the jury that a conviction could be had if the defendants were found guilty of "any" of the means charged to effect a monopoly. One of those means, Justice Holmes said, in announcing the court's decision, was an offense which would not be a restraint of trade but mere cheating, punishable by state law.

RULE OF REASON.

In announcing the court's decision, Justice Holmes said that the "rule of reason" did not make the forbidden acts so indefinite as to make the Sherman anti-trust law as a criminal measure unconstitutional.

One contention of the convicted officials was that the criminal section of the anti-trust law was unconstitutional because the acts forbidden were too indefinitely stated.

While the case has been going on the company has gone into bankruptcy. Its officers charged that the government's attack, among other things, had impaired its credit.

The convictions which came up from the court of appeals for the fifth circuit, were upon indictments alleging that the defendants had conspired to manipulate the naval stores market so that competitors and producers could not sell except at ruinous prices and had been guilty of various other methods of monopoly and restraint of trade.

The company is understood to control about 75 per cent of the turpentine supply of the world and about 90 per cent o the American product.

SPRINGFIELD SWEPT BY BUSINESS HOUSE FIRES

Over Half-Million-Dollar Loss When Flames Got Beyond Control

(By Associated Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 9.—Fire which started in the basement of a department store here this morning within two hours destroyed a row of buildings on the public square causing damage estimated at $500,000.

The fire got beyond the control because of low water pressure. Fifteen buildings were destroyed with all their contents. The fire was believed to have started from defective electric wiring.

Among the heaviest losses estimated were:

The Heer Department store, $200,000; Rep's Dry Goods company, $75,000; Osborne Jewelry company, $10,000; Ross Drug company, $5,000; Nathan Dry Goods company, $25,000; Queen City bank, $15,000; Weaver Shoe company, $10,000.

By 10 o'clock the fire was extinguished.

The fire caused a complete suspension of business. Employes of business houses in the path of the flames helped in removing goods from the threatened buildings and aiding the firemen.

AWAIT OFFICIAL REPORT ON MINE WORKERS' PROBE

Doubt Expressed as to Whether West Virginia Indictments Are Well Founded

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Attorney General McReynolds today is awaiting an official report from United States Attorney Waugh regarding the indictment of officials and members of the United Mine Workers for an alleged conspiracy in the West Virginia coal fields in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Officials at the department of justice declare the publication of the indictments in the newspapers was the first word they had of the prosecution.

It is believed the attorney general will begin a careful analysis of the evidence and determine whether the case, especially in view of the senate's inquiry in the West Virginia fields, is of sufficient gravity to justify prosecution.

OFFICIAL AXE ONCE AGAIN DESCENDS IN BUREAU OF WEATHER

Secretary Houston Suspends, Pending Further Investigation, Four Scattered Members of Department's Force

THIRD SHAKE-UP SINCE MOORE WAS DISMISSED

One Professor, Two General Inspectors, and One Section Director Are Dismissed Until Probe Can Be Made

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The offiial axe fell again in the weather bureau today for the third time since Willis L. Moore himself was recently deposed as chief, because of his activity in trying to become secretary of agriculture.

Secretary Houston today suspended, pending further investigation, J. Warren Smith, professor of meteorology, Columbus, Ohio; Henry B. Hersey, general inspector, Milwaukee; Rosswitte E. Pollock, section director, Trenton, N. J., and Norman P. Conger, general inspector, Detroit.

MORE HEADS TO FALL.

Thirty-nine heads now have fallen in the weather bureau, either by deposition, demotion or suspension, as a result of Moore's misuse of his position.

Secretary Houston has decided to make a clean sweep, and further action is looked for.

BURNING STEAMER LOST OFF COAST OF GEORGIA

Vessel When Last Heard From Was Making for Port

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 9.—No further advices had been received here this morning regarding the steamship Olinda of the Munson line, reported afire at sea, presumably somewhere off the coast of Georgia. It was thought here that she was heading for either Savannah or Brunswick. Officers of the line received two wireless messages but both were garbled and gave no information other than that there was a fire in No. 1 hold and that the vessel was making for port.

The Olinda left here last Friday with passengers and merchandise for Cuban ports. She is a schooner-rigged steel, single screw steamer, built in 1887, and is owned by the Cuban Marine company of Havana, by which she is chartered to the Munson line.

She is 209 feet long and is of 1,492, net tonnage.

SOUTH'S PROSPERITY TOLD BY BRADSTREET MEN GATHERED HERE

Southeastern Division Meeting Develops Reports From Every Part That Trade Is Good and Outlook Bright

ACTIVITY IN BUILDING; BANK CLEARINGS GO UP

Superintendents of Southeastern Agencies Bring First-hand and Expert Knowledge of Their Territory

Reports from all parts of the southeast that trade conditions are good and that the outlook is bright in all lines of industry and business, have been brought to Atlanta by financial agents —the authorities whom everybody believe. These authorities in this instance are the local superintendents of the southeastern agencies of Bradstreet's. They are gathered in Atlanta at division headquarters for their annual meeting.

One by one, with not a discord in the harmony of their optimism, the Brandstreet superintendents added their reports Monday morning to the chorus of sane and cheerful forecast. Basing their predictions mainly on crop conditions, which they say are good—particularly so since the spring rains commenced—they declare with a singular unanimity that the outlook is excellent for the rest of the year.

Building trades are active. Office buildings, hotels, apartments, business houses are going up everywhere. The coast cities report preparations for the Panama canal trade, in the building of new terminals, wharves, etc. The immediate past has been prosperous, as is shown by the bank clearings which the superintendents report.

The meeting convened in the Atlanta office of the company on the third floor of the Empire building. It will continue through Tuesday.

BIRMINGHAM IS BUSY.

R. F. Epperson, superintendent of the Birmingham, Ala., office, said:

"There are under construction in Birmingham buildings aggregating a cost of more than $10,000,000, which includes two hotel buildings at a cost of $1,000,000 each, a bank and office building of twenty-five stories, costing $1,100,000, and numbers of commercial buildings, warehouses, etc.

"During the past few months records of all kinds in productions that have made Birmingham famous have been broken. Alabama today is making pig iron at the rate of 2,152,764 tons per annum, which is the greatest figure in the history of the industry.

"THIS COURT NOT A MACHINE FOR GRINDING OUT DIVORCES" DECLARES JUDGE W. D. ELLIS

Judge of Superior Court Tells Jury He Wants Each Divorce Petition Looked Into Carefully, Whether Defendant Is Present or Not

Aroused by the general tendency to regard the Fulton courts as a divorce machine, Superior Judge W. D. Ellis made it plain Monday that he would conduct the present undefended divorce calendar in any but a perfunctory manner. In a vehement address to the jury, convened for divorce week, the jurist declared no divorce would be "railroad" through his court.

The illness of Judge George L. Bell sent the divorce calendar to Judge Ellis, and when the latter took up the grind at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning more than a hundred plaintiffs, men and women seeking freedom from their marital vows, appeared in the stuffy little court room.

NOT A DIVORCE MACHINE.

"I want it distinctly understood," said Judge Ellis, turning to the jury when court convened, "that this court is not to be regarded as the divorce machine that some persons seem to think it is.

"The matter of granting divorces is a serious one, perhaps the most serious that comes before the courts, and it cannot be treated lightly. You jurors are not to regard these divorce pleas in a perfunctory manner."

Notwithstanding the fact that more than a hundred cases awaited hearing, not more than twenty-five were set by the court at the opening, giving indication that the calendar will not be hurried through in breakneck speed.

TIRED OF LIFE, WOMAN LEAPS FROM HIGH BRIDGE

Mrs. L. Smith Is None the Worse for Leap From Bridge Into Chattahoochee Monday

In an effort to end her own life, Mrs. L. Smith, of 289 Rawson street, on Monday morning leaped from the Western and Atlantic trstle to the Chattahoochee river seventy-five feet below, according to the county police.

A raincoat, which Mrs. Smith was wearing, is reported to have opened like a parachute. The raincoat preevnted her striking the water with the force natural to the fall of a human body through so great a distance, and then it served to keep her afloat.

A passing car soon caused the leap to death, rushed to the rescue of the woman, and he was followed by County Policemen Whitefield, Pope and Carroll, who pulled her from the water.

She would explain nothing except to say that she was tired of living, the officers say. Hundreds of people had heard of the sensational leap from the bridge, and they gathered about the scene of the near tragedy while Mrs. Smith and the officers were waiting for the county automobile which took her to her residence.

Before sheh made the trip back to the city, Mrs. Smith went to a home in the vicinity, and the mistress there loaned her clothing.

According to the police, Mrs. Smith is none the worse for her reported attempt at suicide.

LOBBY PROBE TO UPHOLD PRESIDENT'S CONTENTION

Expected Report Will Bear Out Wilson's Charges—All Senators Have Testified

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—When the last senator had testified today before the special committee hunting for the lobby, it was predicted at the capitol that the report would substantially uphold President Wilson's declaration that powerful influences have been at work in Washington attempting to affect congress on the tariff bill.

Whether it will be shown that "insidious" methods have been used will depend upon the evidence of the next few days when the committee will examine a score or more of men who have called on senators or directed publicity campaigns.

The committee undoubtedly will recommend restrictive legislation of a strong character. It will attempt to draw a clear distinction, however, between an organized campaign to change the opinion of law makers or influence against their judgment and the legitimate presentation of arguments and facts by those affected by legislation.

The senate's labors will be plunged into its second week today. Less than a dozen senators remained to be examined before the committee began calling a score or more of men mentioned in the testimony of senators as being on one side or the other of the free sugar fight.

It was admitted that the investigation already had outgrown its original bounds. It originally was intended to develop evidence concerning the influences President Wilson charged were being brought against the tariff bill. Under the extension of time granted by the senate, Chairman Overman's committee expected to develop all the new phases.

President Wilson told callers today he expected the lobby investigation to have beneficial results through the publicity given to conditions hurrounding the making of the tariff bill. When asked his opinion of the charges made by Senator Townsend as to his own influence with reference to legislation, the president replied that it needed no comment.

Senator Sutherland, first witness, told the committee he owned 200 shares in Clay Lindo Sugar company worth $5.75 a share, and fifty shares in the Amalgamated Sugar company, worth $100 a share. He had no interest in wool, but declared he had voted and would vote for a reasonable duty on sugar and wool. Any other course on his part, he said, would be nothing more than "hypocritical affectation."

In a long service in the house and senate, he added, I have never known any member of either body to be improperly influenced on any legislation, nor have I known of any attempt on the part of any one to exert improper influence."

Senator Reed said he had no personal connections affected by the tariff, did not know any lobbyists, had not been subject to any attempts at influence and knew nothing of any use of money improperly. He was certain, however, that a new system of attempting to influence legislation had risen in this country.

I illustrated by telling the committee about telegrams from horse and mule dealers in St. Louis, saying:

"Please vote for a duty on sugar; it is very necessary to preserve the mule industry for Missouri."

"It is plain to me that sugar planters were seeking to influence the men from whom they bought mules," said he. "Judging from these circumstances and others, I believe there is a system growing up by which attempts are made to reach representatives or senators by indirect methods. It begins through business connections and finally they find some one in the district of a representative and through him make an appeal to local citizens and have them send letters or telegrams appealing in behalf of the people of the state. As a matter of fact, it is an appeal from the people but a selfish appeal. I don't think this has been confined to tariff legislation. I think a strong effort is being made here to affect the passage of the tariff bill or affect a modification of it. How strong it is I do not know."

Old June Has Coldest Day In History

Frosts Reported in Seven States—"High Barometric Pressure" Is the Cause

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The coldest weather ever recorded during June in the middle Atlantic and New England states, the Ohio valley and the Great Lakes region, was reported today to the weather bureau. The gulf states are the only ones east of the Rockies to escape an unseasonable drop.

"A high barometric pressure of great magnitude" is the official reason. Frosts are reported in Vermont, central New York, New England, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Frosts are predicted for tonight in the Great Lakes region, the upper Ohio valley, the north Atlantic states and the mountain districts of the middle Atlantic states.

Refreshing Cool Wave Felt Throughout South

A real "summer" cool wave is now making itself felt throughout the south, and will keep the temperature below 75 degrees in Atlanta for several days, says Weather Forecaster von Herrmann.

The forecast for Tuesday is clear and cool.

The cool wave arrived on schedule time Monday, and was accompanied by lowering clouds, which did not do anything up to noon, but sprinkle a bit that could not even be registered. No real rain is in sight, and an occasional sprinkle Monday is all the moisture that is booked for Atlanta. The skies will clear before Tuesday.

A very high barometer beyond the lake region is the cause of the drop in temperature, which will gradually make its way throughout the south, and will last probably until Friday. It was 58 here at 7 a. m., and below 50 over the great lakes.

PLAN BIGGER VESSELS THAN ANY NOW AFLOAT

New Submarines Will Be Largest and by Far Quickest in Existence

WASHINGTON, June 9.—While the navy department consistently has been extremely reticent concerning its submarines, it became known today that the plans for the three vessels of this type authorized by the last session of congress and on which bids are about to be asked, contemplate vessels much larger than any now in commission.

Although the pioneer in submarine navigation the American navy has been outstripped by European engineers in the matter of size, speed and offensive power. The navy department designers now are planning larger and more formidable vessels of this type and some of them prophecy the development of the submarine into a giant battleship that will replace the dreadnoughts in the first line of defense. They even contend these vessels would be able to disappear beneath the surface of the sea to escape a return fire, after discharging their 12-inch rifles at an enemy.

DEFENSE TO MAKE NEXT MOVE IN PHAGAN CASE

Apparently Prosecuting Officials Consider Their Investigation Complete

Chief of Detectives Lanford has announced that Jim Conley, the negro sweeper, who is the state's principal witness in the case against Leo M. Frank, indicted for the murder of Mary Phagan, will not be cross-examined again unless he voluntarily sends for the officers to make a statement.

It is known that no developments have changed the theory of the prosecuting authorities, and it is apparent from the remark of Chief Lanford and other statements that the officials consider the investigation of the Phagan murder as complete, and are now waiting for the big legal fight to be staged before Judge L. S. Roan probably on Monday, June 30.

With the state 'resting on its oars," it is naturally expected that the next move, if there is to be one, will come from the defense of Mr. Frank.

To forecast any "move" which may be made by the defense before the case actually comes before the court, is a difficult proposition since Luther Z. Rosser, the leading counsel, continues silent.

It is known that friends of the accused man have been actively at work in his behalf, but what they have developed remains a matter for conjecture.

Frank spent a quiet day in the tower Sunday and was visited by his wife and quite a number of the friends, who are standing by him in his trouble.

R. P. Barrett, one of the foremen at the National Pencil factory, and the man who found the strands of hair on the lathe in the metal room, has issued a statement giving his reason for sharing the opinion of practically all of the pencil factory employees that the negro Conley is guilty of the crime with which the factory superintendent is charged.

Once Worth 1,000 Times Its Weight in Diamonds Brings Small Sum Now

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In recognition of the coming celebration on the battlefield of Gettysburg the United States geological survey announced today that it had produced a map of the battlefield which it was prepared to sell to the public at half price. The concession, it is announced, was made by especial authority granted by Secretary Lane, of the Interior department. The map shows the territory about 925 square miles, over which the Federal and Confederate legions fought. Routes followed by Generals Lee, Hooker, Meade, Pickett and other leaders are plainly shown.

"Such a map," says the announcement of the survey, "would have been worth a thousand times its weight in diamonds to either of the commanding generals at the battle of Gettysburg, where the fate of their great armies and probably of the Union and the Confederacy hung on the issues of a day."

TRUTH SEEKERS' SOCIETY IS ORGANIZED FORMALLY

Forty-eight members were enrolled at the initial meeting of the Truthseekers' society, which was held Sunday afternoon at 57 1-2 East Hunter street. The officers elected were: J. S. Dabney, president; George Lowe, vice president; Gus Haas, second vice president; J. L. Hayen, third vice president; W. H. Young, secretary; Sam Kriesburg, treasurer, and W. H. Harrison, librarian.

The society will meet every Sunday afternoon at that address. The general public is invited to attend. In the near future a lecture course will be arranged and a number of distinguished free thinkers will be brought to Atlanta.

CHIEF J. L. BEAVERS TELLS OTHER CHIEFS OF HIS VICE CRUSADE

"Not One Disorderly House Known to Police Exists in Atlanta," Says He to Police Chiefs

"CRIME OF EVERY KIND IS GREATLY REDUCED"

Declares Criticism Is Coming Largely From Those Who Have Lost Money by Closing of Segregated District

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Declaring that the movement against protected vices has already been a success in Atlanta; that three-fourths of the women who frequented the segregated district before its close have left town, and that, as a direct result, crime of all kinds has diminished one-third, Chief of Police James L. Beavers, of Atlanta, addressed the International Association of Police Chiefs, in convention here Monday afternoon on the suppression of vice.

"Ninety-nine out of every 100 officers would enforce the law against vice if they knew their jobs depended on it," said Chief Beavers. "The trouble is higher up.

"Vice is one thing and protected vice is another, and public officials are paid to punish crime, and when they protect it and assign a place for it, they are subject to impeachment.

"None of us," declared the Atlanta police head, "are wholly free from guilt who permit this open shame. There are state laws and city ordinances against such in every state in the union, and if the laws are wrong, why not change them, and if they are right, why not enforce them?"

Chief Beavers said:

"Vice commissions and investigating committees are being appointed by all of our large cities, and many reports have been made by them. Some recommend one thing and some another, but very few of them have recommended suppression.

"Why is it that so many of them favor some other remedy? Is it because they are in favor of continuing the old way of segregation as the best solution, or is it because they are influenced by political and the money interest that control them? I dare say that both have something to do with it in most instances.

WHAT POLICE CAN DO

"I do not say that police officials can do away with this evil entirely, but I do say that it can be reduced to a minimum, and they can stop recognizing it as public officers, and thereby put their stamp of disapproval all over it.

"It might take a long time for doctors to rid a city of an epidemic, but it would not take a city long to rid itself of a doctor found promoting the epidemic.

"Vice is one thing and protected vice is another, and public officials are paid to protect crime, and when they protect it and assign a place for it, then they are subject to be impeached.

"Defenders of segregation have knowledge of the world. Not without sadness they say the closing of the houses will not eliminate the social evil. Some of them almost weep in referring to the antiquity of the evil, but they forget that theft was committed a long time ago, and that murder is also of ancient origin. Imagination staggers at the thought of the heights that might have been attained by the thief and the murderer in their peculiar lines had they been favored with a segregated district in which to ply their lawless practices.

"I understand that a splendid Jew has been leading the battle for decency in the city of Pittsburg. Similar battles are being fought all over the country, and the good people are fearlessly standing behind the guns in the combat against this great peril that menaces our girls and threatens our glorius womanhood.

The state that officially tolerates and guarantees disorderly houses assumes and becomes a part of the crime. The same must be said of cities.

Vienna, Paris and Berlin has closed these places. Madrid and London have

THIS GEORGIAN SUGGESTS REFORMATORIES FOR ALL

Good Place, He Thinks, to Put Spiteful Church Members and Other Folks

To the Editof of The Atlanta Journal:

Sir: I have talked with several good citizens and preachers and they agree with me that it would be a most excellent thing if the next legislature would provide for police regulation in every county in the state somewhat like you have it in Fulton county, and give to the justice of the peace in each district the powers of a recorder's court, and establish in each county a reformatory, something on the manner of yours in Atlanta, except it should also be for grown people that need reformation.

Such a reformatory should have a farm in connection with it and provision for other trades and occupations and thus be made self-sustaining.

Then when a man nurses a grudge in his heart against his neighbor, put him in the reformatory, and if this had been done in the Hawkins case, for instance, no murder would have been committed. When husband and wife get to fussing and quarreling, put the one most to blame in the reformatory, and perhaps prevent murder and stop divorces. When neighbors get to quarreling and disputing about land lines, put the one most to blame, or both, in the reformatory, and prevent murder. When a man gets drunk, whether he disturbs anybody or not, go get him and put him in the reformatory, and it will be the greatest possible aid to the prohibition law, because a man would be afraid to order whisky if he had such habits, for the reason that he might become drunk and get in the reformatory. When an employer breaks his contract with his employe, or the employe breaks his contract with his employer, let the county police arest him and have him sent to the reformatory. When reckless boys cannot be managed by their parents; when church members refuse to speak to each other; when men slander their neighbors or candidates for office; when people litigate over trifles and prosecute on account of prejudice; when a man neglects to work his crop after it is planted and all able bodied men who refuse to work for a living, and all other disturbers of the peace and quietude of a community, have them arrested at once, and committed to the county reformatory.

The superintendent, of course, should have power, in his discretion, to release an inmate on parole.

If such a law were enacted and properly enforced, this scramble for new counties would cease, because people would have very little use for courts, and lawyers would have to seek some other profession.

The legislature did pass the prohibition law, and Governor Smith approved it, and this law has had its salutary effect, but the law that I propose would do more towards stopping crime, doing away with so much courts, restoring peace, good order and good fellowship in the state, than any other law that has been enacted in years. This reference to Senator Smith reminds me to remark that he is regarded all over the country as one of the ablest men in the United States today, and he reflects unusual honor and distinction on our own state, and all these folks in this state that are talking and trying to stir up opposition to him, slandering and misrepresenting him, ought to be committed to a reformatory; they deserve it, and Senator Smith richly deserves to be elected without opposition.

I am, sir,

DAVID L. VENABLE.

Jefferson, Ga., May 26, 1913.

MAYOR HAS NOT SIGNED BUDGET FOR CREMATORY

Probably Will, However, and If Not, Council Will Override His Veto

Mayor Woodward has not yet approved the June budget carrying $260,000 to purchase the crematory, and he states that he will examine it very carefully before affixing his signature.

Though not committing himself definitely, the mayor has indicated that he will approve the budget unless it contains some appropriation objectionable to him which he is not now aware of.

On this point Chairman Humphrey, of the finance committee, is not uneasy.

"The feature of the budget is not what it contains, so much as what it does not contain," said he Monday morning. By this he had reference to the fact that nearly all special appropriations had to be sacrificed in order to raise the $260,000 for the crematory.

Mayor Woodward probably will take action on the budget in time to report to council Wednesday afternoon, at which time a special session will be held for the purpose of taking final action.

Even in the event of a veto by the mayor, the budget will eventually go through, as a majority more than the necessary two-thirds of council will vote to override him.

SOUTHERN BANKER TAKES OVER NEW ORLEANS PAPER

That Atlanta occupies a prominent place in the publishing world was evidenced through the recent purchase of the Gulf States Banker of New Orleans, by the Southern Banker of this city.

By the consolidation of these two periodicals, both of which had strong backing and large subscription lists, the Southern Banker becomes the largest and strongest sectional banking paper in the country.

Richard H. Brown founded the Southern Banker ten years ago, and it was the first banking paper published in the south. It flourished from the beginning, and in 1910 absorbed the Central Banker, of Cincinnati.

With the field that was covered by the New Orleans paper, the Southern Banker now extends its circulation beyond the Mississippi.

The Gulf States Banker has been in existence for five years, and held a high position with banking interests in the southwest and Gulf states.

The purchase of the Gulf States Banker was perfected in New Orleans by Haynes McFadden, secretary of the Southern Banker Publishing company, who returned to Atlanta Sunday.

MASS MEETINGS ARE HELD BY Y. W. C. A.

(By Associated Press.)

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 9.—Interdenominational mass meetings to further the work of the Young Women's Christian association among the students of the female colleges of the south featured today's program of the second annual conference being held at Black Mountain. The conference will continue for ten days. Six hundred young women delegates have already been enrolled.

LEGISLATURE TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY, JUNE 25

Legislation Providing for Election of U. S. Senator Among First Business Before Body

Perhaps the very first business which will be transacted by the legislature, which meets Wednesday, June 25, after the reorganization, will be the enactment o fa bill providing for a special election for a United States senator to succeed Senator A. O. Bacon, who is now serving under an ad interim appointment.

If there is no hitch this bill will probably be six days in passing, as it must be read on three separate days in both the house and senate. The bill will give not less than ten days' notice of the election, which will most likely be called for a day between July 15 and August 1.

Senator Bacon will, of course, be elected to succeed himself. He is already the nominee of the Democratic party, having been chosen in the primary of last fall and declared as such by the Macon convention.

It is understood that he is anxious that the election be held and the returns declared by the legislature before the termination of the present special session of congress. This will enable him to qualify before he leaves Washington. If Senator Bacon's election is declared and certified by the legislature before it adjourns his continuity of service will remain unbroken and his position of seniority in the national senate will be undisturbed.

When the Georgia legislature meets on the morning of June 25 the house will be called to order by Clerk John T. Boifeuillet, of Macon, who will preside until a speaker is chosen. The race for speaker lies between W. B. Burwell, of Hancock, R. N. Hardeman, of Jefferson, and J. E. Sheppard, of Sumter. H. J. Fullbright, of Burke, several days ago withdrew from the race. Indications appear to point to the election of Mr. Burwell.

The senate will be called to order by Secretary Charles S. Northen, of Atlanta, who will preside until a president is selected. There are two candidates for this office—J. Randolph Anderson, of Chatham, and Judge John T. Allen, of Milledgeville. Both claim twenty-seven votes out of a possible forty-four.

Mr. Anderson and Judge Allen have both arranged to open headquarters in the Kimball house next week, and the proceedings of the senate will without doubt be lost or won by Saturday, the 21st. It is not believed that the race will find its way to the floor of the senate.

EXPERTS ARE HERE FOR SOCIAL SURVEY OF CITY

Shelby M. Harrison, of Russel Sage Foundation, to Direct Work

Shelby M. Harrison, director of the department of surveys and exhibits of the Russell Sage Foundation, 31 Union square, New York City, arrived in Atlanta Monday morning at 9 o'clock to take up the preliminary work of a "social survey" of this city. He was accompanied by Zenas L. Potter and Franz Schneider, experts from the department, who will assist him in the task before them here.

The party was met by Secretary Walter G. Cooper, of the chamber of commerce, and Robert L. Foreman, chairman of the committee on surveys, and escorted to their suite at the Piedmont hotel. For some time the local representatives consulted with Mr. Harrison and decided to have the committee meet with him at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of deciding just what phase of the work is to be taken up here at the present time. The committee is composed of Wilmer L. Moore, exofficio chairman; Robert L. Foreman, chairman; Kendall Weisiger, John E. Murphy, George Muse, Linton C. Hopkins, Frederick J. Paxon and Victor L. Kreighaur.

A COMPLETE DIAGNOSIS.

Following the meeting with the chamber committee on "social surveys," the three experts from department headquarters will be in a position to proceed intelligently along the lines pointed out to them by the committee. Their work will, in all probability, take in every phase of the social, economic, civic and other life of Atlanta. The city will receive a complete diagnosis at the hands of the experts and this will be submitted to the chamber of commerce with a view to outlining its needs and the nature of improvements that will be more beneficial to its advancement and its attractiveness to the outsider.

"I have scarcely been outside of the Piedmont hotel," said Mr. Harrison to a Journal reporter Monday afternoon, "and am, therefore, not in a position at present to discuss the situation as it exists in this city. The lines along which we will proceed will be determined after my conference with the chamber of commerce committee this afternoon.

"I am frank to admit this, however: your chamber is most certainly proceeding along the right lines. The work of such an organization is not merely to bring industries to a city, solicit conventions and act as an advertising medium, but it is a duty of these trade bodies to make their city attractive to the resident as well as the outsider contemplating taking up his abode here. It is well enough to get them but the next step necessarily must be to keep them, and to do so such means as are practicable must be intelligently resorted to.

ON RIGHT LINES.

"This is precisely what the Atlanta chamber is doing and to it should be given the credit of this innovation in Georgia. The officers and members are working along the right lines. We shall make a careful study of all conditions, and with that completed will be in a position to point out the needs and recommend in what directions a complete 'social survey' should be made."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS THOUGHT TO BE DROWNED

ATLANTA AD MEN MAKE BIG HIT IN BALTIMORE

Delegation Given Big Ovation as It Marches Into Hall in a Body

BY PAUL P. BEESE.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 9.—With delegates in attendance from all parts of the United States and Canada and several from foreign countries, the ninth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, began in Fifth regiment armory today. The session will close next Friday.

The Atlanta delegation arrived at 1 o'clock Sunday and was given a vociferous welcome at the Union station.

At Washington the party was met by Congressman William Schley Howard, who is a member of the Atlanta Ad club.

The convention opened promptly at 9:30 this morning, and the Atlanta delegation was loudly cheered when they entered the hall in a body.

The selection of Toronto for next year's convention was practically assured when, immediately after this city had been made, a motion that nominations be closed was unanimously adopted.

BRAZILIAN MINISTER TO BE GIVEN BIG GREETING

Distinguished Party of Officials Will Give Welcome to Dr. Lauro Muller

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Senator Root, Major General Wood, chief of staff of the army; Dudley Field Malone, assistant secretary of state, and a distinguished party of officials left here today on the government yachts Mayflower and Dolphin for Hampton Roads to greet Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, who lands there tomorrow.

The Brazilian minister comes to repay the visit of Mr. Root to South America when he was secretary of state. An elaborate program of official functions has been arranged for the distinguished guest while he is in this country.

The official party from Washington is expected to arrive in Hampton Roads tomorrow, when a convoy of American warships will steam out to sea to meet the Brazilian warship Minas Geraes, aboard which is the Brazilian minister. After being received by Secretary Bryan and inspecting Fort Monroe, the party will leave for Washington tomorrow night. Wednesday Minister Muller will be received by President Wilson, who will give a reception in his honor.

Secretaries Bryan, Garrison and Daniels, John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union; Ambassador Da Gamma, of Brazil; Senor Rodriguez, editor of the Journal De Commercial, of Rio De Janeiro, a close personal friend of Dr. Muller; M. L. Chermont, counselor; Lieutenant Commander Aquino, naval attache, and J. F. de Barros Pimental, second secretary, all of the Brazilian embassy here; General Erasmus M. Weaver, chief of coast artillery; Lieutenant Commander R. C. Bulmer, U. S. N., assistant to Le Vert Coleman, U. S. A., and Charles Lee Cooke, state department attache, were among the officers in the welcoming party.

Dr. Muller's Boat Will Reach Port on Minute

(By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, Va., June 9.—The Brazilian dreadnaught Minas Geraes, bearing Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, coming to the United States to return the official visit to Brazil by former Secretary of State Root, was today proceeding slowly up the coast, expecting to be off the Virginia capes early tomorrow.

SATURDAY IS FLAG DAY; ALL ELKS TO OBSERVE IT

Annual Observance Then of Birth of U. S. Flag—Atlanta Lodge Plans Program

With fitting ceremony and a most interesting program, the anniversary of Flag day, June 14, will be observed Saturday evening in the lodge room of Atlanta lodge, No. 78, B. P. O. Elks. The day will be the 136th anniversary of the birth of the United States flag. On June 14, 1777, it became the official emblem of the nation. All Elks are called upon by the requirements of their order to observe that anniversary; and wherever there is an Elk lodge a program in honor of the day is arranged.

The exercises in Atlanta lodge will begin at 8 o'clock, and will be held in the lodge room on the fourth floor of the Elks' home, 40 East Ellis street. Music will be furnished by a large orchestra. Addresses will be spoken by Rabbi David Marx and Colonel Walter P. Andrews, past exalted ruler of Atlanta lodge No. 78. The history of the flag will be told by Miss Regina Rambo. William Maurer will sing a tenor solo, and another vocal selection will be rendered by Wilford Watters. Mrs. John Edgar McKee will sing the "Flag Song," with verses composed by herself and dedicated to the flag. The Elks' tribute to the flag will be paid by Rev. W. W. Memminger. Mrs. Frederick E. Knelt will render a soprano solo. Altar services will be conducted by the esquire and other members of the lodge.

The Elks' observance of Flag day is required by the fundamental laws of the order, and is expressive of the patriotic spirit which permeates the B. P. O. E. None but an American citizen can be an Elk. Flag day and Memorial day, when the Elks commemorate the names of their dead, are the two anniversaries which all members of the order are called upon to observe.

The public is invited to attend the exercises Saturday evening.

RAILROAD MEN HEAR OLD ENGINEER PREACH

Rev. T. H. Harrison Preaches at Midnight in Western and Atlantic Roundhouse

An audience of railroad men gathered in the Western and Atlantic roundhouse at 12 o'clock Sunday night and listened to a sermon by Rev. T. H. Harrison, of Nashville, Tenn., a former locomotive engineer who was converted a few years ago while running his engine in a railroad yard in Atlanta.

Mr. Harrison is now pastor of Adams Presbyterian church in Nashville. He often preaches to railroad men. His sermon in the roundhouse was delivered at the invitation of Barney Craig, the roundhouse foreman.

The subject of the sermon was, "The Third Scene in the Garden of Gethsemane." He spoke of the visit of the woman to Christ in the house of Simon the leper, when she poured precious ointment on the head of the Saviour and was rebuked by Judas. Even then, said Mr. Harrison, the thought of money was occupying a larger place in the mind of Judas than the thought of eternal life, and presently he went and communed with the high priests over the betrayal of Christ.

Continuing, Mr. Harrison said:

"Christ always recognized the presence of evil, and we never read of any place where He asked His father to hinder Satan. His telling Judas to go quickly after the bloodthirsty multitude for His arrest does not give us any reason to believe that Christ was in doubt as to the attitude of Judas, and we have no right to say that He feared the coming mob. The words of Christ simply mean this, that the authority of heaven is now to be turned loose against the force of hell and the righteous soul of Christ to emerge out of His body into the spirit world, there to reign ever after."

Rains Handicap Crops

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., June 9.—The continued rains through this section of the state are badly handicapping the farmers, and the outlook for the present crop of corn and cotton is not as encouraging as they were ten days ago. The heavy hail of last Sunday did untold damage, and several bridges in the county have been washed away.

CROWDS WATCH BIG WILD WEST PARADE

Buffalo Bill's and Pawnee Bill's Combined Shows Get Street Ovation

Despite threatening clouds, all Atlanta, especially young Atlanta, came down town Monday morning to watch the exitic pageant of Buffalo Bill's parade march through the downtown streets.

The thrill of circus day was in the air. From the moment a cavalry band, heading the procession, turned into Whitehall street and struck a rollicking air until the steam calliope, screaming discordant ragtime, rumbled back to the show grounds, Atlanta gave itself over to the delights of the parade.

The parade moved at 10 o'clock, leaving the show grounds at Brisbine park, Cooper street, promptly. In the procession was Buffalo Bill's Wild West showmen and a glittering array composing Pawnee Bill's Far East exhibition. From Cooper street the parade moved into Whitehall, to Peachtree to Broad, to Mitchell to Whitehall and back to the show grounds.

In many respects it was the most elaborate wild west show parade ever presented in Atlanta, and Atlanta was duly enthusiastic.

BUFFALO BILL WILL APPEAR.

Denying that he had been ill, Colonel Cody arrived in the city from Knoxville last night and announced that he would appear in the arena at both performances. Buffalo Bill, however, will not ride on his old stunt of shooting glass balls and leading the cavalrymen in their daring rescue of the "old stage coach," about to be destroyed by Indians. He will talk of the life on the plains instead.

Major Lillie (Pawnee Bill), who came to Atlanta ahead of the show and yesterday superintended the unloading and parking of the exhibits, also will appear in an active role.

Colonel Cody said Monday that the report from Knoxville to the effect that he was ill came about because he did not appear at one performance there. He said that he was visiting a cousin in Knoxville he had not seen for years, and missed one show.

"I have never felt better in my life," said the old scout.

The afternoon performance will begin at 2 o'clock promptly, and the evening show will be given at 8 o'clock.

Tickets to both performances will be on sale at Ludden & Bates' store, 65 Peachtree street, at the same price charged at the show grounds. The ticket wagons at the Brisbine park will open an hour before each performance.

WORLD RECORD IS MADE FOR FIRE PROTECTION

(By Associated Press.)

NEW York, June 9.—A world's record in fire protection was established by the success of an experiment made yesterday in shooting high pressure streams of water from the fifty-fourth floor of New York's highest building. This was from a height of 767 feet, the test being made from the building's independent fire standpipe system, the city high pressure service not being tried.

Of the 350 pounds pressure given the water at the pump in the basement over twenty pounds was retained at the nozzle of two lines of hose on the fifty-fourth floor.

MANCHESTER, Ga., June 9.—The Standard Oil company has established here a bulk or tankage station from which this territory is to be supplied.

MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD BY R. R. ENGINEERS

Honor Paid to Members of B. of L. E. Who Died Last Year

Memorial services in honor of seven members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers who died during the past year were held Sunday morning in the Saint John's Methodist church on Georgia avenue. A large crowd was in attendance, and the services were very impressive. Rev. T. H. Harrison, pastor of the Adams Presbyterian church at Nashville, was master of ceremonies. He is a member of the Brotherhood, and was formerly a railroad engineer.

An address was made by James L. Mayson, the city attorney, and Mrs. Fred Beam sang a solo. As the master of ceremonies read slowly the names of the deceased brothers, the members in the congregation stood with bowed heads. The services were in tribute to the following:

J. S. Morris, H. B. Manning and F. P. Anderson, of Division 207; C. F. Scribner and W. F. Rhodes, of Division 368; H. B. Brooks, of Division 684; and J. M. Costner, of Division 696.

The sermon of the occasion was preached by Rev. George M. Lakes. Just before being dismissed with a benediction, the congregation rose and sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Brass Band Organized

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

MANCHESTER, Ga., June 9.—One of Manchester's latest enterprises is the organization of a brass band, which the members confidently promise will be made one of the best in the state. At a meeting recently held, thirty members were enrolled and organization perfected by the election of the following officers: W. T. Chipman, president; L. F. Herring, manager; Carl Suggs, secretary and treasurer.

ATLANTA ENTERTAINS WOODMEN OF WORLD

Sovereign Officers Pass Through En Route to Jacksonville

Sixty-five sovereign officers of the Woodmen of the World, hailing from Omaha, Neb., passed through Atlanta Sunday on their way to Jacksonville to attend the annual convention, and were entertained by members of the local camps.

Among the notables in the party were the following: Dr. Ira W. Porter and Dr. C. P. Brown, supreme medical directors of the order; Sam Smythe, editor of the Sovereign Visitor;" George F. Wooley, manager of the organization department; Colonel L. C. Mather, adjutant of the uniform rank; Colonel E. R. Stiles, head consul of Nebraska; John R. Croft, representative from Illinois; and Mrs. Emma B. Manchester, supreme guardian of the Woodmen's circle.

An elaborate reception and luncheon were planned by the local committee, but had to be abandoned because of the party's late arrival. They got here at 1:45 p. m., instead of 11:45 a. m., and most of their stop-over was spent in sightseeing under the direction of the committee.

Byciclist Run Over By Funeral Carriage

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 9.—Calvin Seage, aged twelve years, fell from a bicycle at intersecting streets Sunday afternoon and was run over by one of the carriages in a funeral procession returning from the city cemetery.

He is in the hospital and believed to have sustained internal injuries. Four times in the past three years he has suffered more or less serious accidental injuries.

PORTER IS GIVEN MEDAL BY EMORY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

OXFORD, Ga., June 9.—Asa Porter, of El Paso, Tex., was awarded the Oliver Quimby Melton medal for the best all-round athlete and student this morning. Porter is a member of the sophomore class, and since his entrance in college two years ago has been awarded an E in every branch of athletics except tennis. His class room work has been good, which gives him eligibility for the medal. He was chosen over three other students whose names were presented to a committee.

Mr. Melton, who offers this medal, is an Emory graduate in the class of '12. For the past scholastic year he has been gymnasium director and athletic coach at the Allen academy, at Bryan, Tex. He will offer this medal each year.

You Should OWN a Home---and Share in Atlanta's Growth!

EVERY new inhabitant who comes to Atlanta, causes the increase of REAL ESTATE, to a certain degree—the more that come, the higher go Real Estate values—and, the higher go the rents. Are you sharing in Atlanta's prosperity—or, are you turning over a good share of your earnings to your landlord?

The STEWART AVENUE STREET CAR LINE is one of the SHORTEST in Atlanta. It starts at the POSTOFFICE—and ends at CAPITOL VIEW which is inside the city limits—an 18-minute ride. In 1907, the Georgia Railway and Electric company operated little cars on this line—but the population increased, and they put on larger cars, in 1909. The population has been increasing since then to such an extent, that NOW they run their BIGGEST city cars on the STEWART AVENUE LINE—the same large cars as they run on Peachtree, West Peachtree, Georgia avenue, Edgewood avenue and the other big lines.

We have several brand new, beautiful houses, in CAPITOL VIEW, which we will sell to desirable folks, on very easy terms, namely $100 down—and, as little as $21 a month till the house and lot is paid for. There is no mortgage to assume. That surely is better than staying poor by paying rent. You can OWN your home which will get more valuable as the city grows—and, Atlanta surely will keep on growing.

COVERING AND RENEWED SUPPORT CAUSED RISE

Market in New York Closed 5 to 15 Pts. Higher Than the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 9.—Cotton opened steady at a decline of two to three points in response to lower Liverpool cables but there was a considerable demand for near months which quickly rallied. The strength in this respect steadied late July deliveries. Weather reports were considered generally satisfactory while private cables attributed the decline in Liverpool to improved crop accounts and renewed uneasiness over the Balkans, but the large English spot sales probably helped the near months in the local market and the general list rallied about four to thirteen points net higher before the end of the first hour.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, June 9.—Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 3 to 4 points on poor rables and a good weather map. First prices were the lowest for the early trading, as bulls immediately offered support and their buying lifted the market. Private and official reports indicated that showers were experienced over the entire cotton region over Sunday and the general claim was that the rain had been of benefit. Short sellers were cautious, however, because of the manipulation in the past months. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 6 to 10 points over Saturday's close.

COTTON GOSSIP

Washington—Long range forecast: Generally fair weather with moderately low temperature in the eastern and the great central valley and the lake region and local rains along the south Atlantic and gulf coasts the early part of the coming week. For the section west of the Mississippi river, generally fair weather with temperatures above the seasonal average are promised for the entire week.

"The important storm will cross the country the coming week," the bureau's bulletin said, "but a disturbance that is now forming over the western plateau region will threaten eastward, preceded by a general rise in temperature and attended by local thunder showers, and cross the middle west about Thursday and the eastern states during the end of the week. A general reaction to normal temperatures will set in over the great central valleys and the eastern states by the end of the week.

Map shows partly cloudy to cloudy entire belt, with scattered rainfall over the Atlantic and Gulf south Texas, but it was general and with cooler weather, conditions over Sunday were very favorable.

Dallas wire: Texas, Amarillo, cloudy, cold rains over panhandle and state. Oklahoma generally cloudy, light scattering rains.

Forecast:

Louisiana—Unsettled, scattered thunderstorms tonight or Tuesday; night northeast winds in south.

Arkansas—Unsettled, scattered thunderstorms tonight or Tuesday; warmer Tuesday.

Oklahoma—Unsettled, scattered thunderstorms tonight or Tuesday; warmer Tuesday.

East Texas—Unsettled, scattered thunderstorms tonight or Tuesday; light to northeast winds on the coast.

West Texas—Tonight and Tuesday generally fair, warmer in northwest portion.

Kentucky—Fair tonight and Tuesday, slightly warmer.

Mississippi—Cloudy, probable local rains south portion tonight or Tuesday.

Tennessee—Local rains and Tuesday, continued cool.

Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida—Local rains raining tonight or Tuesday.

Alabama—Probably local rain in north and south portions of Tuesday.

Map compiled unless clearing, cooler entire belt, except more rain in the gulf coast districts, south Texas and southeastern quarter of the belt.

Gwathmey and other spot people buying. Selling scattered; very little summer months for sale.

STOCK GOSSIP

Dow, Jones' summary: Supreme court meets at noon. Government crop report at 12:30 p. m. Copper producers figures out about 12:30 p. m. President and leading officials of United Mine Workers indicted in West Virginia as a trust. Foreign dispatches say war is almost inevitable between Balkan allies. House Democrats dissatisfied with tariff bill. Senate to tie up proposed state legislation. Twelve industrials decline .23; twenty active rails declined .46.

The foreign markets are weak on fear of European complications. Minnesota is the case likely to be handed down today. Look for a lower and irregular market the early part of the session.—Potter.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say: Wheat—We look for a rather narrow market today pending the government report.

Corn—New speculative buying is of smaller volume and seaboard generally seems to favor some further recession in values. Low temperatures have covered over a good part of the corn belt during the past 48 hours, the same not being conducive to much growth.

Oats—As in corn bullish sentiment seems to have rather oozed out for the time being.

Provisions—Pork continues to show a strong undertone with more or less investment buying.

Present wheat prices furnish good buying basis, expect government report to be bullish on wheat and ours and bearish on corn.

B. W. Snow wires from Bellville, Kans.: The north central counties of Kansas have a short prospect far above average nor possibly better than the record-breaker of last year. The Solomon valley, from Solomon to Glade, the prospects are nearly as perfect as I ever saw them. The prospects Mitchell, Ottowa and parts of Smith, Phillips and Osborne counties and Jewell, say 600,000 acres. The north three tiers of counties across the state will give more wheat than last year but balance of state is hard hit and aggregate crop will be smaller. Outs in northern counties promise a fair crop, but elsewhere generally a failure. Corn promise never better.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Atlanta and vicinity—Local rains tonight or Tuesday.

Georgia: Local rains tonight or Tuesday.

Alabama: Cloudy, probably local rains in south portion tonight or Tuesday.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

The weather map this morning shows very sharp contrasts in conditions, the atmospheric pressure is quite high over the Ohio valley and lake region, with over 30.6 inches at Duluth and Salt Ste. Marie; the weather is generally fair as far south as Kentucky and Virginia, but cool, with frosty weather. The current temperatures this morning were generally under 60°, with zero over the Ohio valley and the lake region. Light frosts were reported at Pittsburg, Pa., Buffalo, N. Y., and Salt Ste. Marie, Mich.

Owing to the presence of a slight barometric depression or storm in the middle gulf very unsettled, rainy weather continues to prevail in the cotton belt, with much lower temperatures in the northern portion, although it is still warm in the southern portion. Heavy rains fell at numerous stations in the south, the largest amounts being Oklahoma 1.08, Meridian 2.28, Pensacola 2.46, Wilmington 2.08, and Shreveport 2.12 inches.

Rainy weather also prevails in the plateau region and on the Pacific coast, but except under the influence of barometric depressions central in middle and upper plateau.

The forecaster will watch decidedly cool for several days at Atlanta, while the depression in the gulf is likely to cause unsettled, disturbing rain for a day or so longer.

Section Director.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET UNDER PRESSURE ALL DAY

Union Pacific, Reading, Steel, Lehigh Valley, Copper and Can Led the Decline

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 9.—The stock market was under heavy pressure at the opening today. Copper shares and steel were sold in large amounts and declines of a point or more were reached on the first transactions today. The Pittsburgh stocks and Pennsylvania held steady, but practically all the remaining prominent shares were substantially lower. Losses of one to two points were sustained by steel, Amalgamated, Smelting, Canadian Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Erie, Chesapeake & Ohio, Canadian, Northern Union, Consolidated Gas and Great Northern Ore.

Fractional recoveries were not maintained, prices receding again under severe liquidation. Canadian Pacific declined 3, Lehigh Valley 2¼ and Can 2 points.

Stocks were forced steadily up on a breaking market throughout the morning and prices gave way in all directions. The effect of the improvement late last week soon was lost and many new low records established. It appeared that a fresh outbreak of hostilities in the Balkans was unduly disturbed foreign markets and selling here in sympathy with the pressing factors. Calling of loans by banks threw on the market a volume of stocks unsalable except at large concessions. Commission houses executed calls for more margins were not met. The metal stocks in particular were weak.

Bonds were steady.

Vigorous selling was again restarted to-day in the belief when the report was circulated that no important decision would be handed down by the supreme court in the Minnesota rate of the market if at all today. Low records were established in Steel and Union Pacific as well as the leaders of the list.

Coincident with the assembling of the supreme court in Washington, business took a sharp drop. Prices nevertheless went up slowly, recoveries reaching a point in Reading, Steel and Union Pacific. North American slumped 8¾ to 60 on a few transactions.

PENAL SYSTEM STUDY IS FAVORED BY PATTERSON

Prison Board Member Believes Others Will Take Same View of It

Indication that the proposal to appoint a legislative commission to make thorough investigation of the penal system of Georgia, in the broadest sense, will have the indorsement and approval of the prison commission itself, is apparent from an interview from Judge T. E. Patterson of Griffin, a member of the prison board.

It is not designed that this commission shall investigate any particular camp or camps, nor officials and employes, but the system itself, and criminal court procedure. The purpose is to go into the principles compiling the system, find out where they are at fault and propose remedies which will get to the very root of Georgia's penitentiary arrangement.

"There is no question in my mind that such a commission should be appointed and if appointed, I think there are possibilities in it for great good," said Judge Patterson.

"Of course while we are seeking to conduct the penitentiary system in the best possible manner under present laws, we realize, at least I do, that the system is far from perfect. It has its good points; but it has also its defects, and I am confident that a properly constituted commission, given sufficient authority in the matter of securing evidence and information, could point out these defects and suggest the most efficient remedies, possibly in the shape of amendments to the present law or, where necessary, supplementary laws which would commend themselves to the legislature and the public.

"So far as the commission is concerned I feel sure it would be glad to see such an investigation of the system made; and I would take pleasure in lending such a commission all the assistance in my power.

"Along the same line, I might say that the proposal to confer upon the judges of courts discretionary powers in the matter of suspending sentences, meets my approval. There are undoubtedly many cases coming before the courts in which the interests of justice would be served best by this course, and in which first offenders might be saved from lives of crime."

It is expected that the resolution providing for the creation of the legislative commission to investigate Georgia's penitentiary system will be introduced early in the coming session, and it will have behind it the support and influence of a number of leading members. It is contemplated that the commission shall have the right to summon witnesses and also that it shall make thorough investigation of the penal systems in other states, culling from them the best features to be embodied in its report to the legislature with recommendations as to adoption. The resolution will provide also for the reference direct to this committee of all measures presented for the consideration of the legislature proposing prison and criminal court reforms.

ENGINEER GIVEN $3,000 FOR LOSS OF TWO TOES

W. W. Carroll, Injured in Collision, Bests Street Car Co. in Court

The Georgia Railway and Power company must pay W. W. Carroll, a railroad engineer, $3,000 for the loss of two toes, according to a verdict recently rendered in superior court. Carroll sued for $15,000.

The accident in which Carroll's foot was mashed so severely that the amputation of two toes proved necessary, occurred at a railroad crossing near Fort McPherson. Carroll, so he alleged in his suit, was driving a Central of Georgia switch engine when it collided with a street car. He was thrown from his seat in the cab and his foot wedged between the reverse lever and the quadrant.

During the trial of the case the jury went to the Union station to inspect the engine. Colquitt and Conyers, attorneys for the street car company, said that the judgment would be appealed. Carroll was represented by Hewlett & Dennis and Little & Powell.

BAPTIST ASSEMBLY MEETS AT BLUE RIDGE JULY 27

The annual assembly of the Baptists of Georgia will take place at Blue Ridge, Ga., from July 27 to August 17, and will be marked by the presence of some of the foremost speakers in the country.

Arrangements have been made for both morning and evening meetings, at which such eminent leaders as Rev. E. L. Forrester, A. R. Vaughn, R. D. Ragsdale and George W. Andrews will speak. Lectures on "China," the "Old Testament" and studies in the New Testament will form an important part of the program.

The opening service will be held Sunday, July 27, at 11 o'clock, with a sermon by Dr. Forrester. The assembly will come to a close three weeks later with the sermon of Dr. F. C. McConnell. George W. Andrews will be platform manager during the meetings.

ON 4-YEAR-OLD CHARGE A. F. COX IS ARRESTED

On a four-year-old grand charge indictment charging forgery, A. F. Cox, a contractor recently from Athens, Ga., was arrested Sunday afternoon by City Detective John Black and Detective Harry Scott, of the Pinkerton agency.

Cox is alleged to have forged a check on the Coker Banking company early in 1909. Soon afterwards a grand jury indictment was returned against him and he left the city, it is said.

He returned a few days ago and was stopping at 406 Whitehall street.

Mrs. Cox is sa dito have attempted to save her husband, when the detectives called at the house Sunday, by telling them that Cox was out. The detectives, however, continued the search and found him.

CHRISTIANITY IS NOT REFORMER, SAYS OGDEN

Christianity's mission in the world is that of "revealer," and not "reformer," according to statements made by Dr. Dunbar Ogden, Sunday, at the Central Presbyterian church, in the third sermon of his series on "Parables of the Kingdom."

Dr. Ogden said that there are many people who attempt to make the by-product of Christianity, which is reform, its principal mission. But in so doing they endanger the entire work of Christianity, he said.

Taking as his subject "The Mustard Seed and a Little Leaven," Dr. Ogden told how the growth of Christianity had been two-fold.

Wins Eighth Year Prize

WILLIAM CARLISLE JOHNSON, Whose record for eight years at Formwalt school earned gold medal for him.

William Carlisle Johnson was awarded last Friday, the gold medal offered each year to the graduate who completes the eight year course most creditably. The award was announced at the commencement exercises of the Formwalt street school. It is the highest honor which can be bestowed upon a pupil in that school.

Aside from making a remarkable record in his studies and deportment, the lad was prominent in school athletics. When in the sixth grade, he represented Formwalt at the annual field day exercises and won the gold button for the most points made. He also was a member of the pennant winning baseball team for two years.

In his last two years in the school he won also two medals for superiority in oratory.

William C. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson, of 233 Formwalt street, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carlisle.

HISTORIC OLD CRADLE USED IN CELEBRATION

A cradle that was used eighty-six years ago by the grandparents of Rev. E. H. Peacock to rock his mother in, was made a feature in the special service for children at the Buckhead Baptist Sunday school on Sunday morning. Mr. Peacock is pastor of the church, and the cradle was used Sunday morning to celebrate Mrs. Dorothy Strickland's eightieth birthday. Mrs. Strickland is the oldest member of the Sunday school and she rocked in that historic old cradle the youngest member, little Miss Long. Mrs. Strickland was assisted by her young daughter, Miss Kate Strickland, aged sixty-eight.

The services Sunday morning marked the organization of the cradle roll of the Buckhead Baptist church. All of the babies in the community are on its roster, and are eligible to attend Sunday school any Sunday morning. So far the attendance has been unusually good.

SIX SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAD FEWER THERE THAN IN '12

Sunday's Attendance Figures Show Improvement by Others Listed

Sunday's attendance figures among the majority of the leading Sunday schools of Atlanta, reveal again a contrast with those of the coresponding Sunday in 1912. Six schools in the following table had a smaller attendance Sunday than they had a year ago, and one other among them had just exactly one more scholar than it had last year.

Last Monday the first table of Sunday school attendance was published, beginning a three months' recording of these figures.

Here is the second table:

TWO SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO HAVE BIG JOINT PICNIC

Second Baptist and First Christian to Recall Contest, Tuesday

Three thousand people, comprising the active members of the First Christian and Second Baptist Sunday schools, will gather at the cement pavilion in Grant park Tuesday afternoon, and at 6 o'clock they will dispose of the big dinner which will wind up the picnic of these two schools.

The picnic is in the way of a celebration of the famous membership contest between the two Sunday schools which was completed a short time ago. It will start at 2:30 o'clock with a ball game, and will continue on through the afternoon and evening, games and various stunts being the order of the day.

The picnic is not the forfeit affair that it started out to be. When the membership contest was inaugurated it was proposed that a picnic should be the stake, but later it was decided that the festival should be a joint gathering, share and share alike.

FIND CAMPAIGN HAT BEST FOR SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The American campaign hat has prevailed over all competitors as the ideal headwear for soldiers in the tropics, as well as for those in temperate climes, and the new army uniform regulations accentuate that fact by omitting to make any provision for the issue of helmets to the troops.

All American soldiers sent to the Philippines in the early days of the American occupancy were equipped with white cloth helmets, as well as the campaign hat, but the soldiers would have none of the former, except on parade, where it was worn under compulsion. Twenty-six thousand of these helmets lay for years in the army depots, but any hope that they might finally be issued disappeared when the secretary of war decided that a white helmet could not be well worn with a khaki uniform, so they were ordered sold.

THEATERS

FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
BIJOU—Vaudeville and Pictures.

There is much that is unusual about the bill of vaudeville that will be the attraction this week at the Forsyth. It is the best and highest grade of Keith vaudeville, and there are many unusual features.

The headline act is Will Roehm's Athletic Girls, a quintet of pretty maidens who are expert in the art of boxing, fencing, wrestling and bag punching. Will Roehm is one of the best stage directors in the profession, and after drilling several thousand girls for big musical shows, got the idea that it would be possible to select a combination of girls who could be taught athletic stunts and who would become famous in vaudeville. He tried out his idea, and for three seasons his Athletic Girls have been headline features on some of the most important bills.

A feature of the show will be Signor Travato, the eccentric violinist who has been creating such a sensation in cities he has visited that the management has tried to hold him for a succeeding week. The violinist is a wonder as a musical genius, but is valuable too because of his peculiar mannerisms on the stage. Cecil Sale, a gifted character actor will present "A Country School Entertainment" and will assume several characters in full view of the stage.

Gordon Pickens & Co., presenting a comedy playlet that is of exceptional value, the Misses Addles and Mayo, the Steiner Trio, and other features make up the show.

The bill is forecast as one of splendid variety. There are several acts that are classed as the best drawing cards on the American vaudeville stage.

"Hiram at the Cabaret" is scheduled for this week at the Bijou, and it is said to be an up-to-date musical comedy success that will prove one of the most interesting attractions of the present Bijou season. Wally Brooks takes the role of a country sightseer and he is highly amusing. He brings the old farmer and the country officer with him to New York to visit the famous cabaret on a New York roof garden. It is here that many clever specialties are introduced, intermingled with pretty musical numbers in which a big chorus takes part. The company includes, in addition to Wally Brooks, Hanson and Drew, vaudeville players; Eddie Crawford, Marie Miller, Helen Stanley and fifteen others.

The success of musical tabloid is an established fact these days at the Bijou. The popular little theater is crowded at every performance, and this class of entertainment has undoubtedly come to stay so far as the Bijou is concerned. During the week matinees will be given daily at 3 o'clock, except on Monday and Saturday, when two matinees are given at 2:30 and 4. Night shows, 7:30 and 9.

GRAND JURY TO HOLD ROUTINE MEETINGS

It Will Take a Three-Days' Session This Week to Dispose of Criminal Business

The Fulton county grand jury will hold another meeting at 10 o'clok Tuesday morning to take up the criminal business which will be placed before it by the solicitor general.

There is little probability of the vice probe's being resumed, at least during the present week. Because of the Phagan case and the vice investigation the grand jury has had little time to attend to the routine criminal matters, while halways come before it, and as a result bills, which it will take fully three days to pass upon, have piled up.

Foreman L. H. Beck declares that he considers it unfair to ask grand jurors to give more than three days a week to the work, and as a result there is little likelihood of anything except the matters placed before it by the solicitor being considered during the week.

Any individual member of the grand jury can ask that an investigation of any sort be inaugurated, and as a result it is difficult to forecast the attitude of the body toward the vice probe, which by many was considered as closed last week.

Brooks School Census

QUITMAN, Ga., June 9.—The school census has been completed in Brooks county and shows, according to the figures given, the county school superintendent, a total of 2,498 white children between the ages of six and eighteen years, and 4,077 colored children. The last census was taken in 1908, and at that time the number was recorded as follows: White, 2,189; colored, 3,701.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. Albert W. Kahl, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have used Castoria in my practice for the past 26 years. I regard it as an excellent medicine for children."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

Interurban Trolley Lines.

In creating a special committee whose duty it shall be to encourage, when advisable, the promotion and building of interurban electric lines between Atlanta and outlying towns, the Chamber of Commerce has entered a rich and seasonable field of enterprise. Such lines when well considered and well conducted contribute a vast deal to the development not only of cities but also of rural interests. They open new channels of trade, enhance the value of contiguous farm lands and quicken the progress of the entire territory they traverse.

The Chamber's committee can render valuable service in collecting reliable data to which prospective investors could be referred and also in organizing the influences of towns along a proposed interurban route. It is interesting to note in this connection that the Chamber of Commerce of Anderson, S. C., is now fostering a movement to build an electric line from that city to Atlanta, as an extension of the Greenville, Spartanburg and Anderson electric railway now in operation.

The interests behind this road are said to regard with favor the proposal that it be extended to Atlanta and, if they can be convinced of the feasibility and advantage of such a step, they will doubtless take it. This, then, is an immediate opportunity for good work on the part of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce committee; and it is but one of many opportunities that will doubtless present themselves or that can be developed.

Atlanta's remarkable growth has come largely from its numerous railway connections; because of this fact it is today the South's commercial center. The more connections of this kind it can establish, the better. The Chamber of Commerce is working along excellent lines.

The allies apparently don't consider that in union there is strength.

A little touch of winter in June is another versatile feature of the Atlanta climate.

The currency reformers should also study ways to make the per capita circulation more elastic.

The Powers Plan to Demobilize The Hostile Balkan Armies.

One of the most interesting bits of news that has recently drifted from the Balkans is the report that the European Powers will demand the demobilization of all the armies now afoot in that troublous region. The very presence of armed forces, some of which are hostile to one another and are encamped on opposite sides of narrow boundaries, is considered dangerous to peace. The Turks, to be sure, are unlikely to cause any further disturbance; they have neither the spirit nor the resources for combat. Between their government and the Balkan Allies, there has been signed a treaty of peace that will doubtless remain unbroken. But among the Allies themselves, there is serious cause for apprehension.

The Bulgarians and the Greeks, for instance, are now encamped about Salonica; the Bulgarians and Serbs are encamped near Monastir and so heated has been the rivalry between them to possess each of these cities that the slightest spark might bring an explosion. The Greek and the Bulgarian troops actually raced to Salonica and, though the former arrived first and conquered the city, the latter soon came up and challenged the right of the victors. In the earlier stages of the war, there was an understanding between Bulgaria and Servia as to the disposition of Monastir but when the Servians saw an opportunity to take possession they promptly did so and are now ready to repudiate their first agreement.

In these circumstances, the Powers doubtless feel that the one sure way to prevent another Balkan war, which would threaten the peace of all Europe, is to compel the demobilization of all these jealous armies and to force the issues to arbitration. Whether or not such a plan can be effected remains to be seen. It is intimated that Russia has taken the initiative in this course and that Austria regards it favorably. In that case, it would seem that the Powers can proceed in concert and make their will effective.

Most of the entries in the human race are also-rans.

For Agricultural Progress.

"The only enduring conquests," said a French philosopher, "are conquests made with the plough." Certain it is that the progress of a State like Georgia is very largely the progress of its agricultural interests. Successful farming means buoyant commerce, thriving industries and all those values that make a prosperous commonwealth and a contented people. Any agency or institution, therefore, which makes for the betterment of farming methods and farm conditions in Georgia deserves the heartiest good will and support of every citizen whether of the town or the country. Such an institution is the State College of Agriculture at Athens.

The important changes which the past five years have witnessed in the agricultural status of Georgia —the adoption of scientific and economic methods of cultivation, the tendency toward diversified crops and toward a larger production of food supplies—are due chiefly, we believe, to the efficient and far-reaching work of this institution. It has been well said that the opportunity for such work lay in the willingness of the Georgia farmer to grow other crops than cotton, to raise live stock and foodstuffs and to assert the measure of independence within his grasp. But in order that this receptive spirit might be turned to practical account, it was necessary that it be given due encouragement in the right direction; and therein has lain the wonderful usefulness of the State College of Agriculture.

Statistics show that during the past year more than one hundred and twenty thousand Georgia farmers attended the lectures and demonstrations given by representatives of the College on new ways and better ways of farming—a fact which proves that this institution is not only instructing and inspiring the young men of its immediate student body but is also bearing the light and the power of education directly to the masses of farmers in every corner of the State. Equally significant of its work and purpose are the Boys' Corn clubs, the Girls' Canning clubs, and the farm demonstration agencies through which thousands of people are reached and organized for their own benefit and for the cause of agricultural progress.

In addition to all these lines of public endeavor, the College is continually issuing bulletins on subjects of timely interest and is answering inquiries for specific information on all manner of farm problems. In this field alone the value of its service is beyond reckoning.

What the College is doing for its enrolled students is indicated in the fact that its attendance has increased from a mere handful five years ago to three hundred and fifty students in the scholastic year now ending. It has, indeed, established for this State a new ideal of agricultural education and has exemplified the truth that farming demands of the young men who would follow it as high a degree of culture and equipment as does medicine, the law, engineering or any other profession.

The State cannot deal too generously with an institution that is doing work so splendid and so practical as this. The Legislature should bear in mind the fact that every dollar appropriated to the College of Agriculture yields a vital return to all the people of Georgia and that an institution which is growing so rapidly as this one and which is meeting so wide a range of demands naturally requires increased facilities and increased financial means.

The Sooner, the Better.

A delegation of clothing manufacturers from Cincinnati and Cleveland are quoted in the New York World as saying that they "did not give a rap for the tariff; they could make men's and women's clothing in competition with any country on earth; and that all they desired was a definite announcement in advance as to when the measure would take effect. They could then regulate their contracts and avert anything like detrimental consequences."

This statement reflects the attitude of the great rank and file of manufacturers who have given calm thought to the tariff question. Those who know the value of efficient methods and recognize the justice of normal competition have no misgiving as to the reasonable reductions that are to be made in import duties. They have accepted with entire equanimity the nation's verdict on this issue. They realize that public judgment demands a downward revision of the tariff. Such revision has long been anticipated and already has been largely discounted.

What the manufacturers desire most earnestly is that the work of revision be completed without delay in order that they may know precisely where they stand and make such timely adjustments as may be required. The only possible source of business apprehension lies in undue delay on this vital matter. The sooner the Senate enacts the tariff bill, the better will it be for the country's industrial interests.

HUMAN NATURE

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.
(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

Poor human nature seems to be the goat.

If anything is the matter with your scheme, blame it on human nature. Your ideas, plans, institutions, theories and conspiracies are, of course, all right; they break down because they have only faulty human nature to deal with.

For a thousand years or so theologians insisted that human nature is as full of meanness as drug store ice cream is full of bacilli. It is still considered a self-evident platitude that man is by nature low-down and hankering to plunge into crime. All that holds him back seems to be Mrs. Grundy, policemen, fear and hell fire.

All of which I do not in the least believe. On the contrary, human nature is a deal better than any institution or theory it has ever produced.

Human nature is better than any laws made to govern it. It is better than all governments that undertake to regulate it. It has more inborn goodness than all the reformers who are trying to improve it.

It was human nature that made life tolerable under the tyranny of ancient Rome, and livable during the filth and darkness of mediævalism.

It is human nature that antidotes the crazy narrowness of the fanatic, alleviates the merciless processes of business, and tempers the cold arrogance of science.

Human nature sprouts up eternally, as the wild flowers in the woods, and not all the barren excellences of civilization can kill it.

It is not law nor gospel, it is human nature, that makes mothers love their little babies, husbands and wives cling together for better or for worse, strong people care for the weak and aged; that makes children happy grown, folks industrious, and old persons content; that keeps rich people charitable and poor people brave.

"Your millennial schemes are good enough," it is said. "If it were not for human nature. It is that which prevents your having the ideal school, ideal state, ideal church and ideal society." This is not true. For it is precisely human nature which, if we would but believe in it and give it free course, would speedily make the ideal real.

It is conventions, customs, institutions and all such fearsome ghost-powers of the past which thwart the wholesome impulses of living men and women.

All systems built upon a contempt of human nature go down. That is why criminal laws that are inhuman are futile, and that is why prisons increase crime. That is why bloodthirsty creeds have been driven away. That is why tyrannies perish in revolution.

Whoever despises common human nature becomes cynical, and often vicious and perverted. Whoever believes in human nature is on the way to become normal, kind and wise.

Monarchies, aristocracies and all things built upon the belief that men are essentially bad and ignorant, by and by perish.

Democracy is eternal, ever green and perpetually young, because it is based upon confidence in human nature.

That the people are not to be trusted, and need guides of strong hand and leaders and superior folk to prevent them from folly, is the delusion of the short-sighted. What the people need is to be let alone, to be loved and to be trusted.

God does not live in throne rooms, universities and pulpits; He lives among the throng.

Abraham Lincoln is the greatest American because he most utterly believed in the people.

Jesus Christ's spiritual dignity holds, because *He trusted human nature and appealed to "the com*mon people," who "heard him gladly."

Opportunity for Southerh Teachers

Knoxville, Tenn., June 4.—Evidently the teachers of the South have come to realize that it is no longer necessary to go to Columbia or the University of Chicago for their summer school work. This deduction is made on account of the great number of applications for catalogues and accommodations that are daily addressed to the Summer School of the South, at Knoxville. This famous Summer School, now an integral part of the organization of the University of Tennessee, will hold its twelfth session from June 24 to August 1 on the beautiful campus of the University, 1,100 feet above the sea, surrounded by mountains and on the bank of the river Tennessee.

During the history of the Summer School of the South as an independent institution, it was without doubt the most largely attended unattached summer school in the world. The University of Tennessee became in 1912 fully responsible for its maintenance and continuance, and has worked out collegiate, cultural and chautauqua schemes which will insure in all probability a still greater attendance. The high-water mark of attendance in the history of the school has been 2,529. It is believed that this will be exceeded this year.

There are, in all, one hundred persons engaged by the Summer School of the South to conduct courses, deliver popular lectures and otherwise entertain the membership of the school. The courses offered number over two hundred, and deal with all academic, secondary, primary and other subjects that could possibly be of interest to the students enrolled.

Very low rates on all the railroads of the South are available and will be on sale on the following dates: June 22, 23, 24; 28, 29; July 5, 6; 12; 13. The return limit on these tickets will be fifteen days from the date of sale, but this limit may be extended to any date not later than September 30 by arrangement with the joint agent at Knoxville.

Many excursions, recreations and other diversions are planned for those wishing to take advantage of them during the approaching session.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

BUREAU OF STANDARDS.
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The bureau of standards in Washington is the court of last resort regarding all matters pertaining to weights and measures in the United States. It is the successor of the office of weights and measures originally established in the treasury department, and afterward a branch of the United States coast and geodetic survey. It was from the office of weights and measures that standards were supplied to each of the states for the purpose of furnishing the means of a uniform system of weights and measures throughout the nation. How these standards were neglected and the manner in which they are now being called into public service is but a small part of the excellent work accomplished by the new bureau of standards, established in 1901 and at present supplied with an equipment that is the admiration of the scientific world. Comparatively few of the sets of standards supplied to the governors of all the states between 1838 and 1850, have been used to any appreciable extent. Those belonging to Colorado were found in a subcellar under the state capitol, their appearance indicating that they had not been disturbed since they were received and placed there thirty-five years before. Those furnished to Kentucky are supposed to have disappeared during the Civil war. No knowledge of them is possessed by the present generation. In Iowa the standards were discovered in a little vault connected with the state university at Iowa City, which was the state's first capital. When the capital was removed to Des Moines the former capitol building was turned over to the state university. It is provided by the constitution of Iowa that the state superintendent of weights and measures shall be selected from the professors of the university. It was found after a recent examination that the old standards, the existence of which had been almost forgotten, were in good condition, while the standards of the metric system which were furnished at a much later date, were corroded and impaired in value.

* * *

In Ohio the set of standard weights and measures furnished to the state in 1839, by state law were made the legal standards for the business of the state. Copies of these standards were required to be furnished to each county for the use of the county sealer and also to cities upon request and at their own expense. In no case has there been any interest evidenced in keeping the standards in good order or of any provision by which they can be tested. In many instances the office of custodian of the standards was of such small importance as to require little recognition. It was usually given to a man occupying a position requiring more remuneration. At the conference of weights and measures some time ago, he excited by the statement that the office of state inspector of weights and measures in one state was filled by a man holding an important scientific professorship. His work was so important that for five years he had not felt that he could afford the time to go to the state capitol even to draw his salary of $300 per year for looking after the weights and measures standards. They were stowed away in some government building in a room he never had entered.

* * *

The act of congress passed in 1836 provided that each state should be furnished with one set of standards. When these have been lost as in Kentucky, or destroyed by fire as in Pennsylvania, the state itself must pay for the new set. The bureau of standards is ready to supply such sets, but the expense of them must be paid by the state.

* * *

The bureau of standards was called into existence by the need of a means of securing absolute accuracy in all measuring instruments. It is a public office paid for from public funds and its services are available for every state. The enactment of the federal law is under consideration which will require each state to send its standards in at regular intervals to be tested and corrected. It will not be necessary if the states themselves recognize their responsibility in the matter. Many already are doing this. Within the past year the standards of Connecticut, Indiana, Arizona, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Wisconsin have been tested by the bureau, besides those of a large number of municipalities.

* * *

The question of supplying proper standards in the different counties has assumed a new importance in proportion to the increased number of county sealers who are being placed in office, and the unprecedented demand for their services. It is the province of the state to provide the standards to each county and to be responsible for their accuracy. The bureau of standards is ready to make the tests upon scales required for public use, the fees in some instances being paid by the state benefited. It has been so difficult to secure dependable and accurate scales suitable for use by the county or city sealers at a reasonable price that some specially constructed scales have been made by several companies from designs supplied by the bureau of standards.

* * *

In the opinion of many who have given attention to the subject it would simplify the matter of securing uniformity of weights and measures if all of the weights used by public sealers in states, towns and counties throughout the country could be supplied directly by the bureau of standards under the auspices of which accurate scales could be ordered at less cost than is possible through other agencies. But a law exists in Virginia, and the custom prevails in other states, of using only scales that are manufactured in that state. Such scales have to be tested by the standards before they can be accepted as accurate.

* * *

The wonderful commercial and industrial development of the country during the past quarter of a century requires the standardization of a number and variety of articles non-existent in former years. The United States government must have standards of quality, chemical composition, temperature and numerous other qualities, some of which until recently have been unknown even to scientists. The adoption of these standards is no less important than the keeping of them, and both offices are being filled in the numerous departments of the bureau of standards.

* * *

The development of aviation requires some standard of altitude by which the altitude record of an airship could be gauged before its purchase by the government. A scientific study of the aneroid barometers which register these altitudes is now in progress at the bureau. In co-operation with the leading electrical interests, reliable copper wire tables have been prepared by the bureau and adopted as standard by that industry. Through international co-operation the electrical units and standards of England, France and the United States are now in close agreement.

* * *

The standardization of industrial processes and products and the application of precise methods in both science and technology have become imperative. The quality of materials depend upon their physical and chemical qualities. Each of these may be measured and standardized as exactly as their dimensions are standardized. Because a difference in method or time consume in the process of manufacture may change the chemical composition, a standardization of process often is necessary. There is a "standard specification" for every ordinary article, the construction or delivery of which is a matter of contract. This standard must be based upon the measured properties of the materials and the standard test determines the properties which are indispensible in the efficient and economical use of materials. These tests may apply to anything from the paper which goes into the manufacture of official stationery, the cement which is used in the Panama canal locks, or the steel girders used in the construction of some great building.

Captain Barnacle's Log.

BY JOHN H. WISHAR

"Liquid air was what saved my life at the time of the wreck of the schooner Bill McGeehan down off the coast of Luzon," said Captain Barnacle, as he watched a scientist with his grips of instruments leaving the liner. "It was due to such a chap as that that I came out alive.

"I was trading around the islands for a Hong Kong company, and was bound from Manila to Tokyo when this adventure happened. This scientist had a lot of cases and cans and barrels of stuff that came form the city laboratory in Manila. I didn't pay much attention to them, although he had them all stored on deck very carefully.

"Well, when off the coast of Luzon we ran into a hurricane that wrecked my little schooner. The crew and the scientist escaped in the only lifeboat, and I was left to die on the ship, as there wasn't room for me in the boat. But I wasn't the kind to die without a fight. I ran around the deck looking at all the bundles and packages that were lashed there. I knew I had to hurry, as the vessel was filling fast and the wreckage of the masts was pounding alongside.

"Finally I found a great iron can that seemed warm to the touch. I unscrewed the little spigot and a cold blast shot out, freezing the sea water all around me. I yelled for joy, for here was a chance for my life. It was a can of liquid air which I had found. I promptly froze enough sea water to make a big cake of ice, and, still holding on to the can, I climbed on this ice raft just as the schooner went down. The storm went down shortly afterward and the current sent my craft ashore at a good rate. But just as I landed in a pretty little bay there rushed out of a jungle a whole mob of head-hunters. They came at me with their spears and machetes ready and I gave myself up for lost.

"But here again the liquid air saved me. Quick as a flash I turned the spigot on and shot a cold blast at the leader of the band and he froze to the spot. Then I froze up the rest of them. They were alive but helpless. I went along and gathered up all their weapons and waited until they thawed out. Then they all fell on their knees to me and started worshipping, thinking I was some kind of a god. I didn't contradict them, and they took me to their town up in the mountains, where they made me their king. I stayed with them for six months, living on the fat of the land. Probably I would have been there yet only my can of liquid air went dry and I had to fly for my life. But that was how a scientist saved me first from the sea and then from the stewpots of the cannibals."

Twinkling Tales

Moses Meyer brought a piece of cloth home to have himself a suit made. The family, examining the goods, which were spread out on the table, remarked upon the fine quality, pattern, etc. Even little Isidor was called upon to give his opinion of father's new suit.

He immediately turned the stuff on the wrong side and began to examine it.

"Isidor," said old Feyer, laughingly. "Isidor, that is the wrong side. How stupid you are."

"Why stupid?" answered the boy. "It will not come to me until it's turned on the wrong side."

The palm of absent-mindedness is probably taken by a learned German. One day the professor noticed his wife placing a large bouquet on his desk.

"What does that mean?" he asked.

"Why," she exclaimed, "don't you know this is the anniversary of your marriage?"

"Ah, indeed; is it?" said the professor politely. "Kindly let me know when yours come round and I will reciprocate the favor."

"Aw, g'on, Mike," said the British soldier, attempting to end the argument, "you're a lobster."

"Ye flatter me," retorted Mike; "shure a lobster is a wise animal, for green is his color as long as he lives, and he'll die before he puts a red coat on."

A very large and muscular Irish woman had the little shriveled up man to whom she was married haled up in the police court on the charge of assaulting and beating her. He was the worst dilapidated man the judge had ever seen. His arm was in a sling, his head was tied up, his eyes were blackened, and he seemed scarcely able to stand. The judge listened to the big Irish woman's tale o. woe, and unable to stand it any longer, asked in derision: "Do you mean to say that little bit of a physical wreck could beat you as you have stated?"

"Yer honor, he wasn't a physical wreck until he tried to beat me."

In the lobby of a Washington hotel the other evening they were talking about big legal fees when Representative Koenig cited a case.

Some time since, according to the representative, a man fell into an open coal hole, sued for damages and was awarded a substantial amount. When he received a bill from his lawyer, however, he was stunned again, and as soon as he could get into hustling shape he hastened to see him.

"Your bill is outrageous!" exclaimed the client to the legal one. "It is more than three-fourths of the amount that I recovered."

"Quite true," was the calm response of the lawyer, "but you mustn't forget that I furnished the skill and legal learning for the case."

"Yes," excitedly cried the client, "but I furnished the case."

"Oh, as far as that goes," was the scornful reply of the lawyer, "anybody can fall down a coal hole!"

BALLADE OF THE OFFICE SEEKER.

Now that you've risen where
You're highest in the land,
I don't precisely care
For what you take your stand
Nor what the course you've planned
Upon the tariff tax;
I'll leave that in your hand—
Come, Woodrow, use your axe!

I know you'll do what's fair
In making trusts disband,
So I won't prompt you there,
I trust you fully, and
I think you'll leave unscanned
No place where law is lax;
Your cure's my favorite brand—
Come, Woodrow, use your axe!

You'll give a deal that's square
When aliens seek our strand;
The army you'll repair;
The navy you'll have manned—
You rule a nation grand;
Cut rival party quacks,
Nor heed their voices bland—
Come, Woodrow, use your axe!

ENVOI.

Hark, chief, your fires I fanned;
I followed in your tracks—
But why the theme expand?
Come, Woodrow, use your axe!

in operation for the first five months of 1911 were twenty-four, as against the average number of eighteen in operation in 1912. Bank clearings for 1912 so far amount to $74,323,127; total clearings for the corresponding five months of 1912 totalled $68,612,676.

"Within the past few days announcement has been made by the American Steel and Wire company that they are going to expend $15,000,000 in completing their plant for the manufacture of steel and wires."

AUGUSTA OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

William W. Barns, superintendent at Augusta, reported for Augusta and vicinity.

"Commercially the future growth of Augusta is assured," said he. "With the completibn of the 40,000-horsepower electric plant on the Savannah river, Augusta will enter into a new era as a manufacturing center. The plant will cost about $3,000,000.

"Work on the levee is under way, and a call has been made for the third block of levee bonds, amounting to $250,000.

"Two ten-story office buildings are under construction, and the local small grain crop is reported larger than in years, which will give the farmers sufficient feed stuff to carry them until the corn crop is harvested. The outlook for fall business is very bright."

WHOLE SOUTHERN PROGRESSING.

J. E. C. Pedder, division superintendent, and in charge of the Atlanta office, said:

"For the past two years the southeastern states have had a particularly hard time, in fact have passed through one of the most crucial periods in their history.

"In the early spring conditions did not look very favorable for an average crop this year but for the past two or three weeks, however, the entire southeastern states have had good rains, seed have germinated well and the land has been well cultivated. Crops are now looking much better. Our grain crop this spring was a very good one.

"Notwithstanding a momentary depression, this section has gone ahead by leaps and bounds. More developments in all lines have been noted, and more railroads are under construction. As far as Atlanta is concerned, we have broken all records.

"I do not see the cloud on the financial horizon, and am looking forward to a fine business this fall with confidence."

Warren L. Lehman, superintendent of the Tampa agency, said:

The jobbers of Tampa and south Florida report a good business. The citrus growers have just closed one of their most successful seasons. Cigar manufacturers have shipped several million cigars in excess of last year. Many improvements are being made in the way of paving and building, and the new estuary and deepening of the Hillsborough river and bay will be a big factor in the development of the Panama canal business."

PESSIMISM VS. FACTS.

James L. Wray, superintendent of the agency at Chattanooga, said:

"In sharp contrast to a financial pessimism are very favorable returns as to actual current trade and as to crops. All factories are running full capacity and steady wages are maintained. Bank clearings have increased steadily."

Lee A. Roper, superintendent of the Albany office, said:

"Albany's population increased 78 per cent between 1900 and 1910, and this city is sustaining her reputation as being the biggest city of her size in America.

"Albany has just put her street railway system in operation, owned entirely by Albany capital and free from bonded indebtedness.

"Within a fifty miles radius there are eleven counties which increased 50 per cent in the last census. Over $10,000,000 is invested in the pecan industry around Albany."

John A. Singleton, superintendent of the Greenville, S. C., office, said:

LARGEST GRAIN CROP.

"The grain crop now being harvested is the largest this section has had for years. The cotton crop is probably fifteen days behind, due to lack of moisture in early spring, but there has been general rain throughout this section during the past ten days, which relieved the situation, and in business circles a feeling of cheerfulness prevails predicated on crop promises.

"The county will soon ask for bids for the erection of a court house to cost approximately $100,000; municipal improvements continue, and labor is well employed."

George A. Follin, superintendent of the agency at Jacksonville, Fla., said:

"The commerce of this port has been expanding at a phenomenal rate, and stupendous additions and extensions have been made to the dock and terminal facilities, which are still inadequate to keep pace with the growth of the city. Jacksonville herself has undertaken the construction of city docks at a cost of $1,500,000, which has been done to accommodate Panama trade that the city will strive for.

BANK CLEARINGS GAIN.

"In banking circles the city's expansion is shown in a truly startling fashion. The total bank clearings for the year 1912 were $168,142,383, a gain of $22,000,000 a year since 1910.

"Industrially Jacksonville has made rapid and permanent advancement during the past decade.

"She now has 175 or more factories and industrial establishments. She also has ninety or more firms engaged in the wholesale and jobbing business, about one-third of which are wholesale grocers. New enterprises during the year numbered 114, a capital represented in the companies chartered bring $22,951,000, a gain of $14,-253,850 over 1911.

"Real estate has been very active for the past six months, and new buildings actually under construction will exceed a total value of $2,500,000. Among them a fourteen-story hotel which will be completed December 1."

G. M. Williams, superintendent of the Montgomery, Ala., office, reported:

"Indications point to a good fruit and truck crop in m yaection. Real estate values are steady, with a tendency to advance. Business in all lines is good, with prospects bright for this fall."

MOBILE'S GREAT OUTLOOK.

G. A. Bailey, in charge of the Mobile office, said:

"Mobile is coming to the front as a manufacturing and export city. Her export business is gaining in volume each year. The Alabama and New Orleans Transportation company is now opening a barge line through Mobile into the coal fields of Alabama and will launch sixteen steel barges within the next few months. This will give Mobile a cheaper freight rate on this product than any other city in the union. The Mobile chamber of commerce have employed a prominent attorney to take before the interstate commerce commission the question of cotton shipments into Mobile, and it is thought if their point is won, Mobile will become the cotton center of the Gulf coast.

"The Mobile Trade Evangels, composed of a number of the most prominent business men of the city are now making a trip into Central America to study trade conditions there with a view of extending our trade relations with that country. The city has recently erected a modern steel dock shed 1,300 feet long and 200 feet wide. This gives low wharfage rates to steamers entering this port. We have also recently been favored by the United States government in deepening our channel from Mobile to the Gulf from a depth of 23 feet to 27 feet.

"Realty values have increased in Mobile county around 25 per cent during the past year, and city property has also shown a nice increase. In short, Mobile is becoming more progressive every day, and by the time the Panama canal opens for world commerce, we will be ready to take care of the large tarde offered, and look forward to the time in the near future when Mobile will rank among the great export and industrial cities."

SAVANNAH'S HEALTHY GROWTH.

B. F. Showalter, Jr., superintendent of the Savannah office, said:

"Savannah during the past year has shown steady and healthy growth. While building has been very active, the city has not been on a boom. Owing to backward crop conditions during the past year or two a number of the weaker merchants in the territory adjacent to Savannah have discontinued, which will have a tendency to put business on a firmer basis, especially if the anticipated good crops are realized.

"Prospects for the future are good, and while the usual midsummer quiet is noted in all lines, both wholesale and retail dealers are optimistic."

Linton S. Lewis, superintendent of the Macon office, said:

"Macon is growing very rapidly. We have been handicapped for many years by a lack of hotel facilities, but the recent completion of three large hotels, added to those already built, gives Mr. con ample accommodations for any sort of crowd, and these, with its large auditorium, and central location, make it pre-eminently the place for conventions.

"General rains have brought crops to a normal condition, and in different parts of my territory farmers are heard expressing their great satisfaction at the astonishing improvement within the last ten days. And so far the crops have been cultivated at a minimum cost.

"Consequently there is already a feeling of optimism in trade, and the merchants confidently look forward to a prosperous fall. A large and superior grain crop is being harvested, and about a 40 per cent peach crop will mature in thirty days.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

"Peaches, it is believed, will net the growers more money than the large crop of last year, and while there will not be as much money in circulation as there would be with a full crop, it is believed that at least $2,000,000 will be brought to Georgia for peaches alone, and this will put a stimulus on trade generally. Altogether, we consider the outlook bright for Macon and middle Georgia."

F. W. Renneker, superintendent at Charleston, S. C., was no less optimistic than his colleagues.

"We have just had the pleasure of entertaining the commercial secretaries of the south, all of whom made very flourishing reports of the south's prosperity. We are on the band wagon, too, occupying a front seat.

"Our real estate is advancing very rapidly and apartment houses are in great demand. Quite a number of apartments have recently been erected and leased long before completion. Building is active and considerable development is going on in North Charleston.

"The summer resorts are anticipating a heavy travel and have made considerable preparations.

"The Clyde-Mallory lines steamship companies have almost completed their handsome new terminals. We entertained last fall eleven of Uncle Sam's largest battleships, representing $90,-000,000, coming in and going out of the harbor under their own steam and without the aid of a pilot.

"Trade is somewhat quiet, jobbers being not inclined to take on new customers, preferably handling their old dealers who are buying carefully. The acreage planted in cotton is as large as ever, though more expensive fertilizer had to be used. Rain the past week has been of considerable benefit, and cotton is showing big improvements."

done the same thing. Chicago has closed them, as has eight or ten other large cities in the United States.

ATLANTA'S EXPERIENCE

"Under the segregation plan the open house of vice means police protection in flagrant violating of the law. In my own city, the city of Atlanta, we had a segregated district until eight months ago. It had existed ever since Atlanta had been a city. There had always been a sentiment that such a district was necessary. Where such a sentiment originates is a question that puzzles my mind. No doubt some men are honest in their opinion that this sentiment is strongest with the men who receive money from such places, and men who care nothing about the morals of the community.

"On the 24th day of September, 1912, we ordered all the houses known to us to close their doors. The good people of our city offered the women assistance in the way of homes and money until they could get employment so they could make an honest living. About 25 per cent of them accepted this offer, but the larger part left the city and went to other cities where they could continue the same life they had been living in Atlanta.

"I do not say that we have none of this class of people now, nor do I ever expect to see a time when they will all be eliminated from our city, but I do say there is not one recognized house in Atlanta. We have no more complaints in residence sections than when we had the segregated district.

"The closing of the district has had the effect of decreasing crime and disorder fully one-third, which fact alone shows the wisdom of this action. Then, too, we have less trouble with the cheap hotels than before, for the reason that the proprietors know such places are being closely watched and that they are under constant suspicion. Before the closing of the district we had much trouble with these cheap hotels.

"Of course, I have found much opposition to the closing of the district, but it comes mainly from the men who have been making money from it for years. There were houses that rented for from $400 to $800 per month that would not have rented for more than $100 per month in the best residence section of the city.

"I can truthfully say that the movement has been a success in our city, and that the public, in my opinion, would not stand for a return to the old condition. Sooner or later men throughout our nation will throw off the yoke of cruel ignorance. They are doing this everywhere. Fathers and mothers are realizing that a boy is better unborn than untaught, and throughout the world men are putting an end to the slavery of women. Crime against them is no longer condoned in the name of expediency and hidden beneath hypocritical silence, and rightly so."

"In the south, Atlanta has taken the lead. Without the advice or interference of outsiders we have put a stop to protected vice. Instead of punishment and persecution, her people have offered homes and help to the pitiful victims, and many have accepted. But not one disorderly house known to the police is or will be tolerated in Atlanta."

GEORGIA'S SCHOOL BOOK LOSS, TOLD BY M'CRORY

Legislator Says Georgia Pays $662,857 More Than Ontario in Each $1,000,000

Ellaville, Ga., June 7, 1913.

Editor The Journal,
Atlanta, Ga.

Here is the correct answer to my question, towit: If Georgia is now paying $1.75 for the five readers and arithmetic and the same books cost in Ontario 59 cents, what would Ontario pay for the same books that cost us $1,000,000?

The correct answer is Ontario would pay $337,142.86 and that we are today paying on each million dollars of school books purchased $662,857.14 more than we should.

There is no reason on earth why we should not get as cheap school books as Ontario. In truth we should get them cheaper because the best school book paper on earth is manufactured in the United States, while the publishers in Ontario have to pay a duty. I dare any one to dispute this.

The above reason was given by one high up in the book business as the reason why we are paying about 200 per cent more for school books than they have to pay in Ontario. Another reason was that wages are higher in the United States than in Ontario. I am prepared to show that book binders and printers are paid the same wages in Ontario as in the United States.

Now, what is the matter? We are paying 196.7 per cent more than they pay in Ontario for books that are not as well printed as the books in Ontario. Is it not time for us to try and do something for ourselves? I am preparing a bill for Georgia to do like Ontario towit, to edit all school books and have them printed by competitive bids. Who will vote against it?

Very truly yours,
C. R. M'CRORY.

"THIS COURT NOT A MACHINE FOR GRINDING OUT DIVORCES"

period of years and finally deserted her when she failed to turn over her wages to him, Mrs. Annie D. Wilson, appearing against Eugene Wilson, took the stand as the first plaintiff.

She was followed by five others who took the stand before 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Ruth L. Fuller took a verdict from H. L. Fuller on the grounds of cruel treatment and. Mrs. Annie Williams got a decree from J. C. Williams.

Mrs. Annie B. Haney appeared in court with a circular bearing her husband's picture which announced that the United States would pay a reward of $50 for J. H. Haney a deserter from the army. Mrs. Haney said that Haney had deserted her to join the army. She was given a verdict promptly.

Ollie Worthy, a negress, who said her husband was Arthur Worthy, a local prize fighter, declared that Worthy wasn't content to whip a negro in the ring occasionally for a purse but carried his pugnacious instincts home with him.

"GOD-FAVORED SPOT OF THE EARTH IS GEORGIA"

Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, just back from an 11,000 mile journey through the west, central west and northwest, defiares that "Georgia is the God-favored spot on the earth." This state, he says, has the climate, the timber, the minerals, the water and the soil—all that goes to constitute a smiling and prosperous land.

Mr. Barrett was much impressed with what the farmers of California had accomplished, overcoming as they have gigantic obstacles. He calls attention to the fact that the lands of the far west have been irrigated and made fertile. the farmers reside in beautiful homes, whose yards and grounds are decorated with luxuriant grasses, trees and flowers.

Lands out in California, said Mr. Barrett, sell for from $900 to $2,000 an acre. "If the Georgia farmer gave the same attention to his farm and home as does his brother on the Pacific coast he could obtain better results and at a less cost, and incidentally his lands would advance to a greater value."

"When we wake up to the importance of this," declares Mr. Barrett, "we will be able to show the tourist a paradise in Georgia unequaled by the renowned Santa Clara valley in California. And what is more for the farmer, his acres will be worth thousands where they are now worth hundreds."

Don't Argue With Traffic Policeman

A traffic policeman occupies about the same notch in commercial and social life as an umpire does in a baseball game. So abide by his decisions!

Even if you think he has been too obstreperous in halting you and your automobile and a little gruff in admonitions about traffic laws, don't argue with him.

Traffic Policeman Jack Clark stopped R. K. Rambo at Five Points Sunday and, as the result of an ensuing argument which both men claimed the other started, the case was refered in police court by Recorder Broyles Monday morning.

The men went to it verbally hot and heavy right in front of the recorder until he warned them not to get personal.

Mr. Rambo alleged that Clark was an incompetent traffic officer. Clark came back with the accusation that Mr. Rambo wasn't a competent auto driver.

There was repartee and pointing of fingers for several minutes at the end of which time Recorder Broyles called time and fined Mr. Rambo $3.75 and told him he should abide by a traffic cop's decisions just like the home people have to swallow what the umpire hands out.

At Nine o'Clock
A Sale of Bed Linens

A Fine Opportunity to Refill the Linen Chest With all the Needed Spreads, Sheets and Pillow Cases

Any reduction from these prices comes much in the nature of a gift, for quality is assured. The savings are positive, and although, when one considers the saving on each separate piece, one may think it small, the smart housekeeper will reckon on quantities, long-time quantities, which bring the savings to a worth-while point.
Here:

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Now Comes the Disposal of Choicest Silk Dresses

The woman who would own another silk dress, shall own it now for a very small part of its real worth.

This is the clearaway of all those beautiful silk dresses for afternoon and street wear.

And when clearaway becomes our object prices diminish---the one is the antithesis of the other. In dollars and cents it means just this---

$37.50 to $50.00 & $55.00 Silk Dresses
$21.75

So the savings average a great deal more than half.

There are some twenty-five to be spread out at this price. Charmingest styles---Paris ideas eminently evident --- brocaded crepes, charmeuse, Canton crepes, crepe de chines, some of them elaborate with laces and chiffons, others tailored dresses. Choose from navy, tan, rose, wistaria and black.

$25.00 to $29.75 & $35.00 Silk Dresses
$14.75

But twenty-five of these, too ---which it will be well to remember when you are timing your visit to the store.

Dresses with worlds of wear in them, for street and afternoons. Materials are crepe de chine, charmeuse and silk poplins and a few Dresden figured foulards. Choose from rose, navy, Copenhagen, gray and black.

$5.75 to $6.95 Silk Waists
$1.95

Act quickly for these!

The price has been brought to this absurd point because the quantity—as we count quantity—is small.

We term these silk waists—however, there are a few of chiffon and another few of lace.

Styles you will know as new this season. Ornamental and crystal buttons, contrasting bits of velvet and silks as trimming—all in serviceable shades and in white.

$22.50 to $27.50 Silk Negligees
$11.75

Brides of the month should enjoy this.

It is the disposal of the daintiest negligees—of charmeuse and crepe de chine, and worlds and worlds of laces, of soft, billowy, plaited laces.

Paris touches are much in evidence. They show in the panniers, in the way sleeves are designed, in the hand embroidery. You may choose from pink, light blue and a rich shade of old rose.

The Misses Will will entertain at a tea Saturday afternoon at their home on Spring road, in compliment to Miss Mary Hughes a bride-elect.

To Miss Powell

Miss Irma Elise Powell, of Cairo, whose marriage to Mr. Charles Roddenbery Beale will take place on June 17, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday afternoon, June 4, by Mrs. W. T. Crawford, Mrs. Poulk, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Mauldin at the beautiful home of Mrs. Crawford on Ochlochnee street.

Mrs. Crawford's home was beautifully decorated with southern smilax duchess roses, pink lilies, sweet peas and pink carnations.

As Miss Powell passed under a floral arch into the parlor little Misses Mae Walker and Marifrank Mauldin drew ribbons which showered the bride-to-be with a mantle of white roses.

Miss Powell was then presented with a bunch of keys which were to unlock her hidden treasures, and a basket in search for them. After a sucessful search she returned to the parlor, where the guests were waiting with many gifts.

Each guest was presented with a miniature garden bridal shipped filled with rice as a souvenir of the delightful occasion.

Many other social events are being planned for Miss Powell before her wedding day.

Farewell Party

Mrs. J. W. Yarbrough gave a farewell party Friday afternoon to the eighth grade pupils of Walker Street school at her home on Piedmont avenue.

Games were played, in which Miss Viola Harper won a box of candy.

Dorothy and Elizabeth are pupils in the Osceola High school.—Osceola (Fla.) Journal.

SOME INTERESTING WEDDINGS

Boyd-Shallenberger

The marriage of Miss Henrietta Laura Boyd to Dr. William Farquhar Shallenberger took place last evening at 9 o'clock in the Independent Presbyterian church. White roses with ferns crowned the quaint high pulpit of the church and palms were arranged below, making a charming background for the wedding picture, for the bride in her graceful white gown and veil and the bridesmaids in their pretty summer frocks of lace, with delicate tones of pink and blue adding soft color.

Many interested friends witnessed the ceremony, and while they were assembling there was a programme by Prof. Wieland, the organist, which included much of the "Lohengrin" music and among other numbers the overture to "Stradella," a "Barcarolle" by Offenbach, "Secret d'Amour" by Klein, and Schubert's "Ave Maria."

The duet and Elsa's bridal procession from "Lohengrin" was played just before the wedding party entered the church, and changed to the first soft strains of the bridal chorus as the bridesmaids and groomsmen passed up the aisle.

The groomsmen were Mr. Walter Read Boyd, Mr. John Thompson, of Pittsburg; Dr. Charles Richardson, of Macon; Mr. Harold F. Hentz, of Atlanta, and Mr. Paul Bartholomew, of Latrobe, Pa. They were followed by the bridesmaids. Miss Frances Shallenberger, of Latrobe; Miss Fanny Phillips and Miss Deborah Adams, of Savannah, and Miss Bonner Simms, of Covington. Mrs. E. S. Trosdal, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor, and little Miss Beverley Trosdal walked before her as flower girl. The bride entered with her brother, Dr. Montague Boyd, and was met by Dr. Shallenberger with his best man, Mr. Ira Shallenborger, of Latrobe. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rockwell S. Brank, the pastor, and at its conclusion Mendelssohn's wedding march was played.

The bride's lovely gown of heavy satin and point lace was of a fashion very becoming to her beauty and distinction. A certain delicacy was given to it by the fact that the bodice was formed almost entirely of Brussels lace, folded crosswise in surplice style, with long unlined lace sleeves to the wrist. It was edged around the neck with pearls, with a deep piece of crystal lace set in the shoulder. The skirt of the skirt was draped up over the corsage, and from one shoulder almost to its lower edge fell an exquisite piece of old point lace, confined at the waistline and on the skirt with sprays of orange blossoms. A band of pearls ran down the center of the skirt and where it opened over soft flounces of Brussels net was held by a pearl ornament and tassel. The court train of crepe brocade was hung from the shoulders, and the brocade set out as to form the empire real effect. She wore for jewels the bridegroom's gift, a diamond la Valliere. Her tulle veil, worn over the face, had a narrow wreath of orange blooms, and she carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Trosdal, the matron of honor, wore a charming gown of blue charmeuse, with graceful tunic of lace. The corsage was made with palest pink tulle, folded in surplice fashion, and giving a pretty contrasting color that was further emphasized by the flowers she carried, a big bouquet of pink peonies tied with bue tulle.

The bridesmaids' gowns brought out the same pretty contrast. They were white lingerie frocks very lacy and summerlike, and to the shoulders was fastened a drapery of pale blue chiffon, caught at the end in front and edged with tiny pink rosebuds. They carried bouquets of pink peonies, like the matron of honor, tied with blue tulle.

The bride's gifts to her maids were gold little-finger rings, set with lapis lazuli. Dr. Shallenberger's gifts to his groomsmen were walkingsticks, silver-mounted.

Miss Beverley Trosdal wore a very lacy little white frock with blue sash and ribbons, and carried a basket of pink roses, tied with a blue bow.

At Mr. and Mrs. Trosdal's house after the ceremony the members of the bridal party were entertained by Mrs. Montague L. Boyd, the bride's mother. A buffet supper was served. The decorations were of white roses and ferns, and the bride's table held for centerpiece a big basket filled with lillies of the valley, ribbons of tulle were fastened from chandelier to table, and the candles were softened with lilly of the valley shades. The color scheme of lilly of the valley design, and the idea was carried out in many pretty ways in the table appointments.

Mrs. Boyd, the bride's mother, was gowned in lavender charmeuse with point lace.

Mrs. Hudson Boyd wore pink satin with lace.

Dr. and Mrs. Shallenberger left last night on their wedding trip. The bride wore for the journey a blue whipcord tailored suit, with Balkan coat, having waistcoat and collar of white ratine, and draped skirt. Her becoming hat was a black tailored Milan, faced with blue, and with blue trimming, a tiny pink rose and roseacy at the front. They will spend two weeks in the mountains and will then go to Atlanta, where Dr. Shallenberger now makes his home. In the fall they expect to begin housekeeping there.

The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. Boyd and the late Dr. Montague L. Boyd, and is an accomplished and charming young woman, with a very lovely voice that has been excellently trained. Dr. Shallenberger is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins institute and was for a number of years on its staff. He is now a consulting surgeon in Atlanta.

Akridge-Topkins

A wedding of much interest to their friends and acquaintances was that of Miss Corrie Grace Akridge and Mr. Harry G. Topkins, which was solemnized Saturday evening, June 7, Rev. George D. Stone officiating.

The bridegroom recently moved here from Kansas City. The young couple will make their home in Atlanta, where the bride has a wide circle of friends.

Marbut-Loyd

The marriage is announced of Miss Louise Marbut and Mr. William Loyd, Jr., which took place Sunday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock in the parsonage of the East Atlanta Methodist church, Rev. C. V. Weathers, pastor, officiating.

The service was witnessed by a few relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd are at home at 160 Washington street.

Nickerson-Hight

A wedding of unusual interest over the state will be that of Miss Irene Nickerson to Mr. Gordon Hight, of Rome, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Nickerson, on Hull street in Athens, next Wednesday, June 11.

The affair will be a very quiet one and only the families and one or two special friends of the bride and groom will be present. Mrs. Hilliard Spalding will be one of the bride's friends to be present.

The ceremony will be performed at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, the Rev. Troy Beatty, rector of Emmanuel church, officiating. The couple leave after a wedding breakfast in a big touring car for some point on the railroad which they do not reveal and will take an extensive wedding trip through the north, the itinerary of the trip being also a secret they wish to keep to themselves.

No more popular young woman has graced the social circles of the Classic City and few have been as popular as a Georgia student in Athens as Gordon Hight.

Darby-Murchison

The marriage of Miss Ola Darby and Mr. Howard H. Murchison, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Darby, Wednesday, June 4, at high noon, was an interesting event.

Miss Alice Schumpert, maid of honor, and Mr. Will Murchison, best man, were the only attendants. Miss Ethleen Horn played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Dumas of the Baptist church.

Punch was served on the porch, made attractive with vines, ferns and growing plants. The rooms thrown open to the guests were decorated with smilax, palms, ferns and flowers. The color scheme of green and white being carried out in the hall and in the parlor, where the ceremony was performed.

The bride wore a suit of tan with gloves, hat and shoes to match. Her bouquet was bride roses showered with valley lilies and tulle.

Miss Schumpert's gown was of white net embroidered, worn over a pink slip, her flowers being pink roses and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Murchison will be at home after June 15, in Dublin, Ga., where the groom holds a responsible position with one of the leading banks.

EAT MEAT SPARINGLY DURING SUMMER

Meat heats the blood—eat very little of it during hot weather. That doesn't mean that you have to sacrifice nourishing food because it is heating.

You will find Faust Spaghetti more nourishing than meat, and it is also a light, cooling food. By analysis you will find that a 10c package of Faust Spaghetti contains as much nutrition as 4 lbs. of beef. It is a rich, glutinous food made from Durum Wheat, the cereal extremely high in protein.

Faust Spaghetti can be served in many different ways—write for free recipe book. Soldd in 5c and 10c packages.

Taxing Your Income
What would you think of an income tax equal to the amount of money you waste each year by careless buying?
The sum would startle many of us who are not considered extravagant in the common acceptance of the word. And yet we go along the even tenor of our way, happy that we have enough to live on and a little to spare, perhaps.
But, aside from extravagances as such, are you taxing your income more than you should in your every-day purchasing of the necessaries of life? That is the important question.
It is so easy for us to indulge in careless buying that it behooves all of us to pay attention to what we buy and where we buy it. We must make our dollars work for us 100 per cent, or we are taxing our incomes constantly.
THE JOURNAL will help you in your buying if you will but study the interesting and instructive advertising presented daily.

THE EVENING STORY

When Love Is Real

(Copyright, 1913, by W. Werner.)

"I'll come in again to talk it over before I decide."

"Oh, I know," Helen said impatiently, "it sounds awfully romantic and high-souled to say that you love him so well that poverty has no terrors. But, believe me, it isn't so romantic as it sounds. Love is all right, but sirloin steak tastes better than round, and sooner or later you'll sit down and think about it. And then love is apt to go into a decline."

Frederick Heitt had come home early from the small real estate office where he kept books and was general handyman for the richest, stingiest man in the town. As he softly opened the front door and tip-toed down the hall to the living room, for the baby might be asleep, he was dumbfounded at his wife's clear voice uttering the cynical words, because he had been so fatuously sure that Helen didn't mind being poor with him. At last he knew that she minded. He himself minded very bitterly, but he would rather be poor with Helen than a millionaire without her. And he had blindly supposed that she was in the same grumbling but contented state of mind.

He paused stupidly, half inclined to go back to the office and brood in its gloom. But that smacked of cowardice. He waited a moment, then went into the dining room on the other side of the small hall, and, drawing a rocker over by the window, unfolded an evening paper.

The voices in the parlor were not audible there. It was tantalizing to hear the low, indistinguishable murmur, and wonder what else Helen was saying concerning the "decline of love." Helen's face rose before him. Not as he always saw it, softly curved, almost babyish, with a gay little smile twinkling in her round, blue eyes, but as it must appear now, when she advised another sister the course that she had found hard. No smile in her eyes now. Doubtless they were cold or bitter, and he could imagine the soft curves settling into firm disgusted lines. Unconsciously his own eyes went to an ugly worn spot in the carpet at his feet. He looked around the room. The chairs showed wear; the table legs were marred; the dishes on the cheap sideboard were more remarkable for use than elegance. It suddenly struck him that a man had a large amount of gall to expect a woman to scrimp and pinch and practice every petty economy known in order to make a small salary reach, and still be happy. And Helen had been the prettiest girl in town. Half a dozen other fellows, every one making more than he did, had been in her train.

Presently the murmur swelled. He could hear Helen and her guest rising. When they came out into the hall he recognized the voice of Alice Sevvers, a pretty, spoiled young girl whose mother led the small town in social doings.

"You haven't converted me, Helen," she said, poutingly. "But I confess you've given me something to think about."

"And you will think about it?" Helen asked earnestly. "Really, Alice, dear, if I didn't care so much for your happiness, and wasn't so afraid that it is going to be messed, I should never have spoken as I have this afternoon."

"I'll think it over," Alice promised, soberly. "And—and—any way, I'll come in again to talk it over before I decide."

The front door slammed and Helen's quick steps approached the dining room. She was surprised to see her husband calmly reading the paper and immediately got a match to light the gas. "Don't you know, you'll ruin your eyes sitting there in the dusk, you foolish man?" she demanded, half crossly.

Then, humming a bit of a tune under her breath, she hurried out to the kitchen to start the dinner that her visitor had delayed.

"Want cauliflower or peas for dinner, Fred?" she called after the coffee was on the stove and the potatoes were sizzling.

"Makes no difference," Fred called back, trying to keep weariness out of his voice. It was his invariable rejoinder.

Presently Helen, bringing the plates and silverware for the table, asked him to run into the bedroom and see if the baby had waked. Sometimes she crawled off the bed and investigated things without making a sound.

Fred quietly went into the bedroom and, as Helen had suspected, found that the young lady was avidly pulling needles, pins, spools of thread and a lovely, shiny pair of scissors from the work basket Helen thoughtlessly had left within reach of the short, chubby arms.

Not a whit ashamed, she gurgled rapturously at her sombre father and jabbed the scissors at his chin. He took them away silently and gathered up the other articles from the floor. The baby stared in offended surprise. It was not used to that sombre demeanor. She essayed another gurgle—an enticing, pleasant gurgle—that invited him to join. Fred hardly heard it. "Oh, very well!" reflected the resentful infant. Then she opened her small red mouth and yelled—a shrill, heart-broken yell that brought Helen running from the dining room.

"There must be a pin sticking her," Fred observed listlessly.

"Nothing of the sort." Helen reported after a quick investigation. "It's just temper. She's getting awful. Fred, we'll have to take her in hand or she'll run over us."

With the aplomb of fourteen months the baby changed from wrath to gurgling gaiety, and yanked at her mother's back hair. Fred forgot the mighty avalanche of woe that surged down upon him and laughed in unison with his young daughter. Helen had returned to her cauliflower and coffee.

But when he had carried the baby out to the shabby dining room and put her in her high chair he remembered. Like a dull blow it hammered again at his consciousness. Helen was tired of him!

Tired of him! And he couldn't give her freedom. For there was the baby. He couldn't give the baby up. Neither could she. He was not making enough anyway to support them separately.

"What's the matter, Fred?" Helen asked curiously when she had tied the baby's bib around its fat white neck, poured the coffee, placed the steak for him to serve and so finally had time to observe his unusual quiet. "Sick? Or didn't Samson pay the lot after all?"

"What? Yes, he bought it." That had been why he hurried home—to tell her gayly of the small commission that his close employer had loosened his pocketbook to allow. He had intended to suggest that they leave the baby with the neighbor girl next door, who loved her as devotedly as they did, and take in a theater for a change. The commission had been unexpected, so he felt that they could afford to celebrate.

Helen cut off a narrow strip of meat for the baby to chew; it was against her principles, but the baby coaxed. "After all, a little piece won't hurt her," Helen argued. "I've seen people feed babies worse things than that, and they never died. Fred, Alice Sevvers was here this afternoon." Helen had a habit of changing the subject of the conversation very suddenly, but Fred was used to it.

"Was she?" he asked, with well assumed indifference.

"Her mother was over this morning," Helen continued, "and asked me to talk to her. What do you think? The silly little thing is ready to elope with that no account Tom Mauer! And her mother is frantic. Of course, all he wants is her father's money, and Mr. Sevvers says he won't give a cent. Alice was sure she could live with Tom on love and cheese. But," with a gay little laugh, "I think I persuaded the little goose to wait a while. I painted things pretty black. I know too well what Tom Mauer is," with suddenly grave eyes.

Fred's fork remained jabbed in a piece of meat and his eyes were fixed wildly upon Helen. "Is it possible?"

It was not only possible, but fact itself that he had made a very big mistake, for Helen went on to say, and her tone rang too true to be assumed: "I wouldn't have dared to interfere if I really thought they loved each other, as you and I do, for, of course, in that case it wouldn't have mattered a bit whether they had a cent or not. But Alice has no more idea of love than a baby kitten, and he has as much as a young rattlesnake. Fred, I believe you are sick. Don't you know you are putting sugar on your steak?"

He was not making enough to support them separately.

A SUMMER DINNER GOWN

Summer dinner gown of the new peacock green satin with a draped tunic and a gathered skirt that narrows to a yard and a quarter at the ankles. The bodice is of white shadow lace with the satin draped over the shoulders. The black feather fan, by the way, has been revived along with other kinds of large fans for evening use.

Birthday Party

Little Miss Evelyn Dunson was hostess at a delightful children's party Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Dunson, on Juniper street, the occasion being in celebration of her eighth birthday.

Many pleasant games and several bright contests were a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

In the dining room a centerpiece of Paul Neron roses rested on a cluny lace cover over pink satin, pink tapers were tipped with rose and crystal shades, and ices and bon bons were in pink and white.

Mrs. Dunson and the Misses Dunson assisted in the entertainment of the little folks present.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

"The fair Green Meadows spreading wide,
The Smiling Pool and Laughing Brook
They fill our hearts with joy and pride;
We love their every hidden nook."

So said Jerry Muskrat as he climbed up on the big rock in the middle of the Smiling Pool with Paddy the Beaver beside him and watched the dear Smiling Pool dimpling and smiling in the moonlight as he had so often seen it before the great trouble had come.

"Chugarum!" said Grandfather Frog in his great deep voice from the bulrushes. "One never knows how great their blessings are until they have been lost and found again."

The bulrushes nodded as if they too were thinking of this. You see their feet were once more in the cool water. Paddy the Beaver seemed to understand just how every one felt and he smiled to himself as he saw how happy these new friends of his were.

"It surely is a very nice place here and I don't wonder that you couldn't bear to leave it," he said. "I'm sorry that I made you all that trouble and worry, but you see I didn't know."

"Oh, that's all right," replied Jerry Muskrat, who was now very proud of his big cousin. "I hope that now you see how nice it is here you will stay and make your home here."

Paddy the Beaver looked back at the great black shadow which he knew was the Green Forest. "Why over in the middle of it he heard the hunting call of Hooty the Owl. Then he looked out over the Green Meadows and from way over on the far side of it sounded the harsh call of Reddy Fox, and it was answered by the deep voice of Bowser the Hound up in Farmer Brown's dooryard. For some reason that last sound made Paddy the Beaver shiver a little. Just as the voice of Hooty the Owl made the smaller people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows shiver when they heard it. Paddy wasn't afraid of Hooty or of Reddy Fox, but Bowser's deep voice was new to him, and somehow the very sound of it made him afraid. You see, the Green Meadows were so large and open that he didn't feel at all at home, for he dearly loves the deepest part of the Green Forest.

"No," said Paddy the Beaver, "I can't possibly live here in the Smiling Pool. It is a very nice pool, but it wouldn't do at all for me, Cousin Jerry. I wouldn't feel safe here for a minute. Besides, there is nothing to eat here."

"Oh, yes there is," Jerry Muskrat interrupted. "There are lily-roots and the nicest fresh-water clams and—"

"But there are no trees," said Paddy the Beaver, "and you know I have to have trees."

Jerry stared at Paddy as if he didn't understand. "Do—do you eat trees?" he asked finally.

Paddy laughed. "Just the bark," said he, "and I have to have a great deal of it."

Jerry looked as disappointed as he felt. "Of course you can't stay, then," said he, "and—and I had thought that we would have such good times together."

Paddy's eyes twinkled. "Perhaps we may yet," said he. "You see I have about made up my mind that I will stay a while, anyway, along the Laughing Brook in the Green Forest, and you can come see me there. On our way down I saw a very nice hole in the bank that I think will make me a good house for the present, and you can come up there to see me. But if I do stay you and Grandfather Frog and Spotty the Turtle must keep my secret. No one must know that I am there. Will you?"

"Of course we will!" cried Jerry Muskrat and Grandfather Frog and Spotty the Turtle together.

"Then I'll stay," said Paddy the Beaver, diving into the Smiling Pool with a great splash.

Crackers Are In Birmingham For Season's Biggest Battle

LOCALS PLAY BARONS; BIG CROWDS EXPECTED

Crackers and Barons Will Tie Up Today With Foxen and Mayer Opposing Brady and Dunn

BY JULIAN MURPHEY.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 9.—Unfortunately a black, chilly morning greeted the Atlanta club as it pulled into Birmingham early Monday for the big flag-rasing day game with the Birmingham club. However, no rain is falling, and the big festivities will be pulled off. President Kavanaugh and the directors of the Atlanta club are on hand and will aid in raising the flag at Rickwood field. Jim Brady and Bill Foxen have been picked by the rival managers to do the hurling, with Dunn and Mayer backstopping. Both Brady and Foxen are veterans and are in no danger of suffering from stage fright owing to crowds.

The weather here, while decidedly bad for baseball, is not near so rotten as was the opening day in Atlanta, when Atlanta won the attendance cup. The backers of the Baron team are preparing to accommodate 9,000 fans, but it is very doubtful whether any such crowd will be on hand. Yet that is what it will take to better Atlanta's mark, and that is what the fans over here are out to do.

The parade from home plate to the tall flagpole is a well planned affair, in which both teams will take part. President Kavanaugh will lead the procession, with the officials of the two clubs next in line, after which the players will come. When the flagpole is reached, President Kavanaugh will make the customary speech in delivering the flag, which will be accepted by Bob Baugh, of the Birmingham club. Then with a bit of handshaking the teams will take to the field and the game will be on.

In the game itself the fans are not so interested, the one wish being that the crowd will be larger than that which packed the Atlanta park opening day, and won the attendance cup. Of course, this may be done and then again it may not.

Golfers Visit Best Courses

Party of Atlantians Headed by George Adair Are Off to England

A party of five Atlantians—George, Frank and Perry Adair, Charles Sciple, Jr., and Stewart Maiden—left here Sunday evening for New York, from where they will sail for England to play around the golf courses of England, Scotland and Ireland for the next month or so. While the party is going mostly for pleasure, they will closely inspect the best courses on the other side with a view of adding new features to some of Atlanta's best.

George Adair is one of the best golfers who plays the East Lake course and Stewart Maiden is the instructor at the same course. They will make a careful study of the best links across the water and in this way get a bunch of new ideas for the proper trapping for the East Lake links. Golf is rapidly becoming a game in which bunkers and traps play a most important part and new ideas have to be conceived every little while. The courses that will be visited by the Atlantians are perhaps better trapped than any other in the world and from them many of the most up-to-date ideas can be gained.

White-Savage Will Be Bill

After Flynn had cancelled, things looked bad for a scrap, and the managers had almost given up all hope of staging a bout here then; but just as things were about closed up, a wire came from Dan McKetrick to the effect that Sailor White will be available for the big mill with Savage, and that he is anxious to get a try at the big team.

The local promoters signed the man up before he knew exactly what had happened, and the Atlanta fight fans will have a big fight on the proposed date. White is the one man in the world who does know how to meet the onslaught of Savage, and the mill promises to be one of the best ever staged in this city. The remainder of the bill will be the same, with Sailor and Tery Nelson will meet in a ten-round argument, while Mayer Pries and Spider Britt will try the same number of rounds.

Junior Stars In Golf Meet

NEW YORK, June 7.—Leighton Calkins, president of the Plainfield Country club, has set himself the task of getting as many entries as possible for the second Junior Metropolitan Golf championship, to be held at the Plainfield Country club on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 24 and 25. He has sent out a notice to all Metropolitan Golf association club secretaries asking them to furnish the names and addresses of such members of the clubs as have boys nineteen years of age and under who play golf. The purpose of the tournament is to encourage the playing of golf among the boys at the metropolitan clubs.

"We wish in particular," says Mr. Calkins, "to acquaint the parents of young boys that they can rely on our club to furnish a proper environment and to take good care of boys coming from a distance. To that end we intend to issue personal invitations to the parents of all boys from other clubs, inviting such boys to spend Tuesday night, June 24, in the homes of our own members, who will be very glad to entertain them in that way. All boys coming to Plainfield for the tournament are to be entertained in private homes and not at the club house."

Polo Ponies Are Ready

NEW YORK, June 9.—This was Farrier's day in the camps of the American and English polo players at the Meadow Brook Country club at Westbury, Long Island, in preparation for the international cup series, which begins tomorrow. The fine strings of ponies which the American defenders and the English challengers hold ready for the fray, about 100 mounts in all, were all newly shod, although neither side probably will use more than a score of their valuable mounts in the first match.

The rubber bandages which the ponies have been wearing to protect their ankles from mallet blows were taken off for the first time today, and the players galloped over the course for the last limbering up. Two years ago in the successful defense of the cup, the American ponies were vastly superior to their opponents' mounts, but the challengers this year have brought over, at great cost, a string conceded to be the equal of the American entries.

New York experts judge the English ponies to be even in better physical condition. Most of them carry more flesh and cool weather has been in their favor. Fair and cool weather will continue, it is predicted, tomorrow.

The eleventh-hour decision of the American Polo association to reinstate the old cup defending team, as this year's defenders, was welcomed apparently by most of the American enthusiasts as a wise move, especially in view of the injuries which Foxhall Keene sustained Saturday. Bets were said today to be practically an even thing on the chances of another American victory.

The teams and mounts were conceded to be so evenly matched that luck might be a decisive factor in the series. It was said at the Meadowbrook today that there might still be a change in the English line-up. Captain Vivian C. Lockett has been showing as much skill as his teammates expected at back and Lord Wodehouse, substitute, may replace him. The events tomorrow:

Trophy—International polo cup. Presented by Westchester Polo club of New Port, R. I., 1886.

Make up of teams:

England—No. 1, Captain L. St. C. Cheape; No. 2, Captain Edwards; No. 3, Captain Rizon; back, Lockett; substitute, Lord Wodehouse.

American—No. 1, L. E. Waterbury; No. 2, J. M. Waterbury, Jr.; No. 3, Harry Payne Whitney; back Devereux Milburn, substitutes, Malcolm Stevenson, L. E. Stoddard, R. L. Agassiz, H. C. Phipps and R. L. A. Montagne.

Referee, Robert, E. Strawbridge.

Judges, Joshua Crane, Boston, and Captain E. D. Miller, England.

Goal judges, Dr. H. A. Strother, Milton Mass., and F. Forester, Lakewood.

Official timer, W. Strother Jones.

Scene of contest, Meadowbrook club grounds, Westbury, Long Island.

Dates seelcted, Tuesday, June 10, and Saturday, June 14, weather permitting.

Conditions: Best two out of three games.

The executive committee of the National Polo association decided today that the injury which put Marshall Keene out of the International contest made it imperative to withdraw also the team Keene was to captain and rely upon the veteran players originally chosen.

The cup defenders will play in their old positions, Devereux Milburn, the only one of the four who had a place on the Keene team chosen last Wednesday will return to his place at back. With the team today withdrawn he was to play No. 2.

The polo committee also announced that the substitutes for the International games would be: Malooly Stevenson, T. E. Stoddard, R. L. Agassiz, Harold C. Phipps and Foxhall Keene, Jr. Of these, Stoddard and Stevenson were members of the four that probably would have taken the place of Keene, Jr., but Milburn and Captain Keene, had not a fall at practice Saturday put Keene out of the contest with a broken collarbone.

Harry Payne Whitney will captain the cup defenders, as originally intended, and the Waterburys, Lawrence and J. M. Jr., will be with him in the line of forwards.

The statement of the polo committee announcing the changes says:

"The regrettable accident to Foxhall Keene caused a loss of combination and team play which is essential to success and makes it inferative to select another team."

The team line will be:

No. 1—L. E. Waterbury.

No. 2—J. M. Waterbury.

No. 3—H. P. Whitney. (Captain).

Back—Devereux Milburn.

This change was decided upon at a meeting of the polo committee held at the Meadowbrook club and attended by Herbert, W. A. Hazard, August Belmont, Harry Payne Whitney, R. L. Agassis and Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and after the announcement much satisfaction was expressed among polo followers over the reversal of the committee's decision. They appear to believe there is an even break as it now stands—that the English players are as good as the Americans and that the team selected, which will take the result simmer down to the factor of luck.

This afternoon there was a knockabout game on Phipps Field in which the entire English team with Captain E. D. Miller, F. W. Freake and Lord Wodehouse, Captain Whitney and the other three players of the American team took part. There was no particular play, they merely riding the ponies about the field for an hour to keep in trim and give the mounts exercise.

Tomorrow the English and American teams will have light field practice with a half hour of goal shooting.

Atlanta Boys 'Off to Camps

Many of the Coming Athletes Go Into Camps for Summer Athletic Work

Atlanta is coming to the front in the athletic line as never before. There is more interest being shown in the development of young athletes and in caring for the places where the older ones used to train, and the fact that Atlanta is the best baseball town in the south has lots to do with this. Within the next few years the city will have more and better golf players. This city will be able to hold her own against any city in the country along athletic lines.

One of the many evidences of this increased interest is the number of Atlanta boys that are going to summer camps this summer. There will be the greatest number this year that there has been in all the rest of the summers put together. Every camp in the country will have a representative from Atlanta. Culver, Greenbrier, Riverside, Sapphire and several Canadian camps will have boys from the best families in the city. Camp Greenbrier will draw about the biggest crowd, with a total of about forty boys, ages ranging from twelve to twenty. The boys of the Greenbrier bunch will go in a special Pullman chartered for them. This car will go through Cincinnati, Cincinnati Ohio, Kentucky and finally into West Virginia, there being no change until the destination is reached at Alderson.

Among the boys who will go to Greenbrier are Harry Stearns, Jack Colyer, Jack Kontz, Rolling Jones, Jr., Bob and John Whitaker, George Weyman, Spencer Callaway, Joe McCord. These boys will leave on the 24th of this month and will return two months later, different boys physically. They will all look like Indians and will be in as good health as it is possible for a man to get in. The summer camp idea is a good one, and is meeting with the hearty approval of all leading authorities on the boy question.

Stringing 'em On the Car

(United States Consular Reports.)

One feature of the Far Eastern shipping situation that is of more than passing significance is the rise of Manilla as a port. A year ago increased calls of ships of all lines, and especially the determination of the European mail lines to send vessels to Manila on their homeward trip during certain seasons of the year, were announced. Time card schedules provided for calls at Manila of most of the trans-Pacific mail boats sailing by way of the Suez canal. After the Panama sailings from the United States to Hongkong via Manila were limited to one sailing a month, and sailings from Hongkong to the United States by way of Manila were practically nil.

Under the new schedules some of the vessels from Hongkong to San Francisco via Hawaii proceed by way of Manila, leaving out Shanghai (which is formerly one of the principal ports of call for all trans-Pacific steamers), and on the voyage from San Francisco to Hongkong only the large boats of the American line and a few other ships proceed to Shanghai, Manila in each case being a new port of call.

The several explanations are offered for the change, including the enforcement of the "one bottom" rule on ships from the United States to the Philippines, the plain fact of the situation is that the Philippines now have the tonnage to offer, and the lines send their vessels that route for a few months only because they find there is paying business which they find there in paying quantities.

Yale Looks To Be Champs

BOSTON, June 9.—The last fortnight of the college baseball season in the east opened today, the feature being the second game of the annual series between Princeton and Yale. Today's game, staged at Princeton, came over from last week as a result of the six-inning scoreless tie of Saturday, the finish of which was prevented by a storm. Yale has already won the first game of the series and the followers of the blue have high hopes that she will wind up a phenomenal season by taking another game from Princeton and also the series with Harvard next week.

In the event of Blue victories in these contests the eastern college championship will be decided beyond doubt.

Brown still holds a place next to Yale in unofficial calculations as to the ranking of the eastern college nines. Harvard hopes to hold this place as the result of the Yale series.

Evert Jansen Wendell in 1880 when captain of the Harvard university track team won the 100, 200 and 440-yard runs in one afternoon in the intercollegiate championships at Mott Haven, and his performance has never been repeated in these events since that day, although there have been other triple winners like A. C. Kraenzlein, of Pennsylvania, and Ernest Ramsdell in other events. As a matter of fact, Kraenzlein was a triple winner two years running, and in one of these years took a second as well as three firsts.

Prize Only to Pure Opera

The opera that wins the $10,000 prize of the National Federation of Musical Clubs will be "free from all taint in character and pleasant and clean. Mrs. Jason Walker, chairman of the American music committee of the federation, has made known this intention of the organization.

"We have no desire to appear prodish," said Mrs. Walker, "but we are opposed to the presentation of vice on the stage, whether under the name of art or not. We believe the public is weary of this flouting of unbelievable themes and that it is time for it to insist on the portrayal of the pleasanter things of life. Our prime motive is to encourage the writing and production of American opera and incidentally to have cleaner subjects for operatic plots."

RECORDS LIKE TO BE BROKEN

Motor Track Not Built Especially for Speed, but It Looks to Be Mighty Fast, Good Time Turned Up

Built without any particular intention of making it a place for the demolishing of world's records or anything like that it appears now that the Atlanta motordrome is uncanny fast.

It was constructed with the dual idea in view of safety for the riders and comfort for the patrons—which was fair enough. But in making it safe for the riders Jack Prince seems also to have accomplished the miracle of making it the fastest quarter-mile motordrome on the continent.

Nothing will be known for sure about this until the first meet, for none of the riders have really opened up wide. They have all been too careful with the details of adjusting their motors to the point of greatest speed. When the races really start things will happen.

For instance, take "Tex" Richards. This man has the famous "22" machine, an affair of special construction, with a long stroke, small bore engine. He has been tuning it as seldom a motor was tuned before. And he has not let it out. He will Tuesday night. "Tex" has not been racing for some little time and he could stand to win a couple of prizes in succession without getting Carnegie or Rockefeller jealous. He will ride for first money in every start and he's a speed buzzard when he lets out.

This tiny Frenchman, Georges Renel, has a motor that can go some too. Marty Graves says its the fastest crate of its kind in the world, which may or may not be true—time will tell. But anyhow there is absolutely no knowing what it can do when it is let out to the limit.

Renel is one of the most expert race riders in the world. He has starred in America and in his native country of France. He is small, light and fearless. He knows volumes about gasoline engines. He will go some.

Then a man worthy of the most careful consideration is "Jock" McNeil. His own testimony is, 'I know a little about a gasoline motor; I'm a 'ham rider,' but I will let her out."

And he will, too.

McNeil is as game as he is wise. He is the sort of a chap who can tune up his motorcycle to the last notch and then ride it as fast as it will go. His dope about being a "ham rider" is denied by his pals. They say he is just as good a rider as there is in the country, and the wisest head besides, at tinkering up a motor to a point of doing it very best.

These are only three of the ten stars who will ride Tuesday night. The others are men who are equally good in their various ways, and whose machines are as fast, or anyhow practically as fast. They all need some prize money. They will surely go after it Tuesday.

The surprising part of it all is that they have been showing laps and miles so fast as to astound the men holding the watches. They haven't been trying for records. They have just been tuning up. From that it appears that the track itself is fast. Broken records may be strewn all over the old saw grounds Tuesday night. The riders are expecting it, anyhow.

ERRORS AND HITS THAT WON GAMES

The wonderful pitching of Alexander won the game for the Philadelphia team Sunday in their series with Cincinnati. Both pitchers were there with the goods but Alexander got the drop on the Reds and won out by the small score of 2 to 1. Becker, Marsans, Lobert and MaGee carried off the batting honors of the day, each of them getting a pair of hits. The game was fast and snappy, Cincinnati scoring its hits while the Pennsylvania boys got nine.

Boston handed it to St. Louis Sunday right in the neck, by the score of 5 to 3. Huggins, of St. Louis, got three hits out of four times up while Oakes, McDonald and Texas got two apiece for the afternoon's crop. The game was a very good one, Boston putting the winning run across in the seventh. Boston got seven hits while St. Louis took ten for tehir share.

Manager Evers lucked out in the game with New York Sunday and finally defeated the Giants 2 to 1 in a ten inning game. In the tenth he sent Fleetfooted Ward Miller in to run for Archer when the latter slightly hurt his foot sliding to second. A few minutes later Miller slid home with the winning run. The game was a way above the average and was a pitchers' battle featured by spectacular fielding. Doyle, Murray and Evers were the batting stars of the afternoon, getting a couple of hits apiece. Zimmerman was not in it today, he being at the plate four times and not getting a single hit.

Nashville and Birmingham engaged in a batting practice in their game Sunday, the final score being 9 to 6 in favor of Nashville. Both teams had to send in relief pitchers. Schwartz for Nashville was some star, his getting five hits out of five times at the bat. This is hitting the ball at a lively clip and at this rate the Vols will never lose. Marcan for Birmingham also hit the ball freely, getting three hits out of four trips to the plate.

New Orleans broke even in the double header played in New Orleans Sunday. The Pelicans won the first game 4 to 2 and lost the second one 4 to 6. Klingler had the New Orleans men at his mercy in the last battle and pitched rings around them. The big feature of the games was Baerwald's home run with a man on. The Turtles went good in both games but were rather weak in the pitching department. The New Orleans man had it over the Turtles' choice in control and they lost.

Miss Eleanore Sears, the Boston society girl athlete, has a rival in Miss Celia Marguerite Zwillinger, of Oakland, Cal., who recently walked the distance of miles between Burlingame and Gilroy in seventeen hours and twenty-five minutes, which is two hours and fifteen minutes ahead of Miss Sears' time. Patrick O'Dea, the well known athletic coach who accompanied Miss Zwillinger on the trip, says: "Miss Swillinger is beyond question the plucklest girl it has been my good fortune to know. She has grit, stamina and the most wonderful powers of endurance that I have ever witnessed in a woman. She made the hike without stopping to rest except in San Jose; even when the automobile approached for the purpose of giving her a bit of beef tea she did not stop, but kept on walking. She certainly is an extraordinary girl."

ATLANTA SECOND RATER SAY BIRMINGHAM FANS

Fans in Baronville Can See Nothing but 9,000 Admissions at Monday's Game, Thus Breaking Mark Set by Atlanta. Everybody Is Boosting Game—Atlanta Gets Chance to Show Real Class in Trophy Day on June 19

BY JULIAN MURPHEY,
(Sporting Editor.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 9.—"Of course we will show a better attendance at today's baseball game than Atlanta, but it turned out when the attendance trophy was won on opening day, the weather not to be considered. Birmingham is naturally a better ball town tran Atlanta and this can be demonstrate in a conclusive manner today."

This line of talk from President Bob Baugh as that greeted the Atlanta ball club and officials when they arrived here bright and early Monday morning for the big game at Rickwood field in the afternoon. And it is not all talk by any means. President Baugh and every fan in Birmingham sincerely believing every word that was uttered by the Baron head.

The enthusiasm aroused over the raising of the 1912 pennant and the chance to show our Atlanta in attendance is remarkable. You can't pass any boy, man or child without being urged to attend the big ball game. And in the mind of every one the paramount issue is whether the crowd which will turn out will be larger than that shown in Atlanta on the opening day of the season. Everybody in Birmingham is a Birmingham booster and all feel keenly the stinging defeat handed out by Atlanta on the opening day of the year. Revenge is painted everywhere.

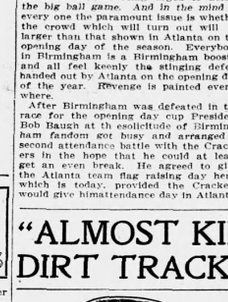
After Birmingham was defeated in the race for the opening day cup President Bob Baugh at th esolicitude of Birmingham fandom got busy and arranged a second attendance battle with the Crackers in the hope that he could at least get an even break. He agreed to give the Atlanta team flag raising day here, which is today, provided the Crackers would give himattendance day in Atlanta, which comes on June 19. This was agreed to and now the battle is on in earnest.

For weeks past the main topic of conversation in Birmingham has been regarding this attendance battle with Atlanta. The boosters have pointed out time and time again that Atlanta packed 8,836 paid admissions into the park on the opening day at Ponce de Leon and under the handicap of having rain falling throughout the afternoon. Now Birmingham is out to show at least 9,000 at today's game and thus make Atlanta a bit stronger in the big attendance trophy day on June 19, at which time Birmingham club will beat Ponce de Leon.

President Frank Callaway, Vice President Charles T. Nunnally and Secretary A. J. Ryan, of the Atlanta club, made the trip over with the Atlanta team and today are the guests of the Birmingham directors. They all appreciate the spirit being shown by the Birmingham fans and know that Atlanta has a tough job ahead to go out and beat the attendance which will be shown here in the flag raising game. While of course they admit the Baron enterprise is hard to beat they deem it unnecessary to state that Atlanta will of course come around on June 19 and show a bigger crowd than Birmingham, no matter how high the figures go.

The throw-out cast over fandom owing to the tardiness of the steel flag pole was killed Saturday when the pole arrived and was placed at Rickwood park. It is now one hundred feet above the ground and to its top will be placed the bunting copped last year by the Baron club. Harry Jones is master of ceremonies and will guide the line of march to the flag pole promptly at 3:30 o'clock City and club officials will takepart in the ceremony, a crowd of 5,000 fans (says Baugh) do their cheering

"ALMOST KILLED RIDING DIRT TRACK," SAYS GLENN



HARRY GLENN.

Atlanta Boy, Who Has Taken Up Motorcycle Game, Tells of His Close Call

BY HARRY GLENN.
Atlanta's Motorcycle Race Rider.

I judge I wasn't born to be killed from the fact that I am not dead yet. I sure have had a lot of opportunities.

Of course I have ridden the boards much as yet. I am learning the kink and turns of this new motordrome out at the show grounds, and I shall be ready to risk my neck on that just as soon as the local riders are. In fact, I think they are going to arrange something for me for Tuesday night.

My narrowest racing escapes have been on dirt tracks.

I think my closest call was in Macon, and even then I didn't go down.

The track down there was fierce, fully three or four inches deep in sand. There were three of us in a pursuit race one day, and we had reeled off seven miles or so when I just closed in on the man ahead of me and had swung wide when the wheel hit a patch of sand, and things began to happen.

Instead of staying back where it belonged, it came right up to the front and did everything but go over the top down the track, broadside on, at sixty miles an hour.

It's really a fine experience.

You think you are holding up with a moderate number of thrills when you go straight ahead at a mile a minute and then, by way of experience, try going at that speed—sideways!

Pool luck, probably.

All I did was to hang on and try to yank her around. Finally I straightened out and made a ride of it. I lost so much time, though, that I lost the prize.

I had another moderately close call at Fresno. They used to do some great rough riding up there, and in a meet up there a few years ago there was some guy who was trying to spare time riding right in front of you and dragging his foot in the dirt so he would throw it up in my face. He carried this thing to a ridge of dirt that was piled up in the track, and we had a pretty fierce time of it there, but no damage was done.

If a man is reasonably careful and keeps his head, I don't see why he ever needs to get into much trouble. I never got in a hole yet I couldn't see my way out, though I'll admit that when I was cavorting down that Macon track plumb sideways, I figured for a second on a hole in the ground.

TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, June 9.—By special dispensation the New Orleans and Montgomery clubs were allowed to play off the tie game of June 5. Manning and Gribbens, for the visitors, and Mc-Intyre or Weaver and Adams, for the locals, were the batteries announced. The weather was clear and warm.

NASHVILLE, June 9.—This is an off-day at Nashville, the game with Chattanooga scheduled for today having been played two Sundays ago.

Buffalo Bill Is Well

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 9.—Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), who was suddenly stricken ill in this city Friday, has fully recovered and left yesterday afternoon for Atlanta.

Track Captain Elected

Cotton Men Meet

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The American Cotton Manufacturing association began a three-day session here today. Tomorrow the delegates will be received at the White House by President Wilson. Secretary Redfield addressed the opening session today.

Athletics Are Away Above

NEW YORK, June 9.—One of the axioms of the sporting world is that champions, once defeated, never come back. An exception will have to be made in the case of baseball and Connie Mack's Athletics until the other seven clubs in the American league fall on the Mackmen en masse. At the rate the Philadelphia team of the American league is traveling at present, the Ban Johnson pennant for 1913 will be won some time about August 1.

When the baseball week ended on Saturday night the Athletics had just scored their thirteenth consecutive victory, and appeared to have everything that goes to make a winning team. Youngsters and veterans alike are playing in perfect form.

The other clubs are making desperate efforts to strengthen their weak spots. During the last week Detroit purchased Pitcher Grimes and First Baseman Burns from the Ottumwa club of the Three-I association; St. Louis bought Shortstop Flanagan, of the San Diego team, and Manager Chance dropped Pitchers Clarke and Klepfer to make room for other players he is trying to procure.

Meanwhile the Athletics are well out in the lead, with Cleveland following. There was no change in the order of ranking in the junior league.

The addition of Hal Chase to the ranks of the White Sox cannot fail to improve the chances of Comiskey's club.

In the National league the New York Giants, playing at a steady clip, passed Brooklyn into second place. McGraw evidently feels that the trading of Ames, Doyle and Merkle to him rather weak in substitute infielders, for he purchased "Harvard Eddie" Grant from Cincinnati. The Reds put the three former Giants to work at once and all performed excellently.

The Phillies at the week end still held a lead of over 100 points over the Giants. Both Brooklyn and Pittsburg were unable to stop their winning career. Chicago and Boston a hard proposition and the best Evers' men could do was to get an even break in four games. Two of the Cubs' veteran pitchers are working well.

St. Louis won its only game of the week on Wednesday when the Cardinals drove Christy Mathewson from the box with a series of slams that startled both the "fadaway" artist and his teammates.

MIKE MURPHY.

Old Doc Time at last can rest;
There is no one left to meet him;
There is no one at the test
That could ever hope to beat him;
For the one that fought him back
With no alibi to barter,
Now has crossed the last dim track
Where there's neither Time nor Starter.

Old Doc Time may give three cheers
With a long vacation coming,
Where across the drifting years
One alone has kept him humming;
For his rival of the field
Dreams today beneath the clover,
With the laurel on his shield
Where the Sprinter's stride is over.

There are other great trainers left—but for all that there was only one Mike Murphy. He made Flying Feet cross two yards where only one had been crossed before. The man that Murphy couldn't condition was beyond all tinkering. He must have been the Columbus of the "pink" that crowns condition for when his training job was completed there was nothing left to be imparted that human knowledge had to furnish.

WHAT THE YANKS LIKE TO READ.

"Paradise Lost;" "The Fall of Rome;" "Lives of the Martyrs;" "With Fire and Sord;" "The Deluge;" "The Castaway;" "The Fall of the House of Usher;" "Marooned;" "The Last Day of Pompeii;" "The House of Bondage."

On the other hand Chance's favorite volume just now is "Robinson Crusoe." "Some people are born lucky," states the Yank leader every time he thinks of an island 5,000 miles away from the nearest ball park.

WHAT THE HURRY.

England kept the polo trophy twenty-three years before it was captured and brought back. America has held it but four years and yet we understand the English team is upon the verge of collecting it again and taking it back across. What's the bally hurry? If we could wait twenty-three years why should they come horning in before most of us even know what the cup looks like or what a chukker is?

Joe Jackson drove one of Rond's shoots over a 90-foot stand 300 feet from the plate. Whether his bat is arranged in the mould of a baffling spoon or a niblick the great slugger refuses to state. There is no doubt, however, but that he had the ball well tee with a perfect lie to shoot from.

The spectacle of the Cleveland club shooting along at the same old clip with Nap Lajoie wounded is a good sign that times have changed in the Buckeye metropolis. Heretofore the absence of the big Frenchman has always been the signal for a Napland collapse. But not for 1913. When a ball club can lose its manager and star player at the same swipe and still continue piking onward, the stuff is there for a pennant fighting campaign. Cleveland this season has the most dangerous ball club it has ever shown—one calculated to stand up longer and carry on the war. And after thirty-one years who shall say that it isn't about time.

A. R.—When a baserunner is supplanted by a substitute, said runner is through for that day.

F. L. N.—Chase's best year at bat was in 1911 when he led the Yanks. As we recall the figures he tapped .338 that season.

Tinker to Chance—"So long, old pal; I wait for you to the limit but Tempus Fugits and a job is a job."

No one in New York has started panning Chance for the same reason that no one has ever panned the eminent scientist who first discovered that extracting gore from a turnip rind was not to be accomplished by human ingenuity.

Cubs, Giants and Pirates have ruled the league from 1900 through 1911, but it may be that 1913 is another year. If so you may consider this a scoop, instigated largely by the present attitude of the Phillies who are taking their time about blowing apart.

Tennis Title Decided Today

NEW YORK, June 9.—Three members of the Australian lawn tennis team—S. N. Doust, the captain; A. B. Jones, and E. W. Hicks, the manager—appeared at the courts of the West Side Tennis club Sunday, jubilant over their victory yesterday in the doubles of the Davis cup international seires.

Doust is scheduled to meet McLoughlin, the American national champion, in the first of the singles matches, which will close the international series tomorrow.

Theer is prospect of fine weather, and the coutrs have been put in perfect trim for the finals of the cup matches which will decide whether the Americans move forward to the next round of the elimination contests to decide what nation shall be the challengers of the British Isles, the holders of the world-famous trophy.

The final matches in the Davis cup preliminary lies between the United States and Australia teams attracted another large following of tennis enthusiastits to the courts of the West Side Tennis club today. Fair weather was promised and the schedule called for two matches in singles, Maurice E. McLoughlin, champion of the United States meeting Stanley N. Doust, in the first match and R. Norris Williams, second, the young Harvard player meeting H. M. Rice, in the other. With the score of matches standing 2 to 1 in favor of the United States the American team needed to win but one of today's contests, while the Australasians need both in order to secure entrance ito the second round of the cup preliminaries to be played in England next month.

It was regarded as a fortunate turn for the Americans that A. B. Jones, the Australian who proved so dagenrous in the doubles yesterday, was not nominated at singles. He showed a service, volley and generalship that approached nearer to McLoughlin's calibre than any of his teammates, and he was the dominating factor in the defeat of the Americans at doubles.

Rice and Doust, the Australasians on today's program were both defeated in the first of the single matches last Friday, by McLoughlin and Williams, resnectively; this drawing was just opposite of that for today, but it seemed to have no effect on the assurace of McLoughlin's admirers that the American champion would dispose of Doust, the captain of the invading team, "quite as easily as he disposed of Rice," as "the American twist" service, as shown by both McLoughlin and Williams in the first matches, seemed baffling to both of their opponents.

Whatever the outcome of today's matches the trio of players from Australasia will leave for England in a few days to compete in the English championships at Wimbledon.

In the event of an American victory in the present contest the American team is scheduled to leave for England late this month, to enter the second round of play. The German team, which has already defeated France, will meet the winner of the local series. Then Canada and South Africa meet, and Belgium, which has drawn a bye, will be faced.

The experts seem to have picked the Canadians as favorites over the South Africans and in turn, the Canadian, the American or Australian teams would be favorites over the Belgians. The remaining teams will then meet for the right to challenge England, the defenders of the cup, and the challenge round will be played at Wimbledon in the middle of July.

GOOD ELEVENS ARE AHEAD FOR JACKET SUPPORTERS

Every lane has it turning and the Tech athletic lane is about to turn and turn into good fortune and better scores for the home team. For the past few years there have not been the best teams in the world out at the Flats but things are going to pick up with the opening of the new athletic field and in a few years the Gold and White will be ranked with the best colleges in the east as well as the south.

That the school is on the eve of a rennaissance is admitted by the most pessimistic. They all believe that everything comes to he who waits and works while he waits; or, in the words of the coach that is doing all this good for the school, "Here you, while you are resting over there get around the track five times" and let it be known to the readers that five times around the track is no less than one long country mile and that you are resting and getting ready for the next scrimmage when you take that vacation trip around the track, but such is the life of the football player and that is what made the Tech team what it was last year, the gamest bunch of little men that ever put on the moleskin. They were there all the time and to say quit was to die. They never quit. They fought and in every game the scoring for Tech was invariably done in the last quarter, which fact alone shows that the team had the go.

And then the question arises. What's the use of all this? The south knows that Tech had a fighting team last year, but Georgia Tech is to have one of the best football teams in the south in the season of 1913. They are to have a team that will make the whole city proud of the fact that Tech is within the gates of the town and when the night shirt parade comes down the way the cops will all be glad to look the other way and let the boys have a fling. Just where and how this team is going to get to Tech has not yet been found out by the school, but Whitlock, the all southern bat boy has bet $5 on the Yellowjackets in their game against Georgia, so it stands to reason that he must know something; but Whitlock is like the wise owl, he sees a lot and hears more, but talk never. That there will be a good team there is fairly certain.

The majority of the old men will be back and the entire scrub team will be there with bells on and it looks as if some of the scrub men are to put in a heavy bid for a place on the big team. In other words nothing will be given away at the Flats. It will be a matter of hit and get hit and the fellow that can stand the hitting best will get the place and incidentally the honor of being on the best team that the school has ever turned out. Coach Heisman begins his new five year contract next Fall and Assistant Coach Alexander has also signed for another season and this is enough to satisfy the fans that the team will go in the field well coached whether it wins or not.

Julius Caesar said once that it is not in our stars but in ourselves that we are underlings. Well, that is all true and everybody at Tech has given up the star stuff and are pulling together for a bigger Tech. Bigger in every way and especially in the athletic way. There will be one or two new men to enter and these will be a help to the already big nucleus. As a whole, the teams of the school have done very well this year and this year incidentally has been a great many surprises for the Yellowjacket crew. They defeated Georgia in the famous baseball series and that is about the extent of the baseball record; but what's the use of Tech working hard when Georgia defeats everything in the south and has the pennant sewed up, and along comes a bunch of Baby Jackets and deliberately takes the sewing out of the championship sails and lets the ship sink on three defeats out of four games.

Cobb Lunches With Smith

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Senators Hoke Smith and William Hughes, of New Jersey, charged with framing the cotton schedule, laid aside their work on the tariff Saturday and enjoyed half an hour talking with Ty Cobb over a luncheon table in the senate restaurant.

Cobb came to town Saturday with the Detroit baseball club. He visited the capitol during the morning and at the invitation of Senator Smith remained for lunch. The Georgia Peach was profuse in his thanks to the senator for the interest he had manifested when the Detroit management threatened to drive him out of baseball. He declared it to be his opinon that the interest andactivity of teh senator had much to do with a satisfactory adjustment of the difference between himself and the Detroit club.

The two senators expressed regret at tehir inability to go the game that afternoon, but assured Cobb of a purpose to see him bat 'em out this week.

Wolgast Fight Off

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 9.—The Ad Wolgast-Johnny Dundee twenty-round fight scheduled for Tuesday night at Vernon arena was declared off last night because of the injury sustained by the former lightweight champion Saturday. Wolgast may not appear in the ring again for six months because of a dislocated thumb, according to physicians.

New Stadium Is Dedicated

BERLIN, June 9.—The next Olympic games are still three years away, but the great stadium, where the contests will be held, was dedicated at noon yesterday. The emperor was present. A deputation from the international Olympic committee also was present. Various sporting societies to the number of 30,000 paraded from the center of Berlin to the stadium.

General Von Podbielski, who presided, proposed as a device for German athletics:

"Ever prepared for the empire's glory," the words written years ago by the emperor in the golden book at Munich.

When General Von Podbielski finished speaking the athletic organization enteerd the stadium and filed past the emperor at salute. The procession included 9,000 girl and boy scouts.

The idea of a German stadium originated during the discussions of a party of German Olympic officials on the return trip from the Olympic games in Athens in 1896. In May, 1912, the successful financing of the plan was assured. The stadium has been practically completed in nine months.

It is built in a natural depression, the highest tier of seats being level with the ground. Besides the imperial box for the royal family, there are 2,208 box seatts, while the total capacity is about 30,000.

The bicycle tarck is 666.67 metres around, three circuits being approximately a mile and a quarter.

An unusual feature is a straightaway of 168 metres on either side. The cinder path, within the cycle course, is 600 metres around. Before the imperial box there is a special 100-metre track for the sprints. The center of the stadium comprises a football field and two fields for gymnastics, weight throwing, jumping and similar sports.

Fast Boats Off In Race

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—The three motorboats which started yesterday on the 734-mile ocean race to Bermuda, for the James Gordon Bennett cup and $1,000 in cash, passed out to sea late last night during a heavy rainstorm. The scratch boat, Barbara II, was the first out, passing the Overfalls lightship at 10:55 o'clock, according to a wireless dispatch today. The Tocsan II and the Dream are believed to have passed the same point between midnight and 12:30 a. m., but owing to weather conditions their signals were not seen.

Schulte Operated Upon

CHICAGO, June 9.—Frank Schulte, right fielder of the Chicago Nationals, underwent an operation yesterday for the removal of a growth from his forehead. During the last few weeks he has been troubled with intermittent headaches, which are believed to have been due to a lump which formed on a spot where he was struck by a baseball about a year ago.

Schulte will be able to play his position today, it is believed.

Wonderful Pain Relief

It's surprising how quickly all forms of pain yield to Anti-Kamnia Tablets (head pain from any cause excessive brain fag, indigestion, colds, grippe, coryza, over-indulgence, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc.) yet they are not stimulants, depressants or habit formers. A trial will prove this to your satisfaction.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Feeding

NOTICE when visiting different poultry yards that a great many people do not provide a place to feed their chickens and simply throw the feed, soft, dry and in any other form scattered on the ground. This is not the proper way to feed chickens or anything else and more than it would be for a person to spread their food all over the table and have nothing to eat out of. Little chickens especially should be fed in a trough or on a wide plank, and then you can tell just how much your chickens are eating, and if they eat up clean the food that is given them, you not only provides a clean place for them to eat but saves many young chickens from picking up gape worms and other injurious things at the time they are eating, besides it saves an abundance of food and the chickens get the benefit of all the food that is given to them. When soft feed especially is fed to old and young chickens, any feed that is left should be removed immediately after the chickens are through eating, because if it is not done so during the hot weather especially it will soon become sour and will either kill or upset the system of any chicken that eats it after it has fermented or sourred.

So often you will see a person make up corn meal dough and pile it down in the coop with a lot of chickens, and often fed in the same place every day. This is not sanitary or wholesome, and you cannot expect your chickens to thrive and do well with such care. Chickens are like human beings and should not only be fed clean food, but it should be fed to them in a way that they can take it into their system in a cleanly condition. Many chickens are upset and their systems placed in a condition where they are easy prey to disease by improper feeding, and a person cannot be too careful in this respect. Furthermore, much food is thoroughly cleaned up after each meal. Of course when dry food is kept before old and young chickens, which should be done most of the time, it should be kept under shelter and in a trough properly constructed so that the chickens will not waste the food on the outside of the trough, as any food wasted or scratched under foot will usually sour or become so that the chickens will not enjoy it like they would clean food.

In feeding grain food, a person should be very careful and not feed any more than a chicken will eat up readily and with a relish. A person can usually be governed by the eagerness by which chickens come after their food when it is being given to them and tell almost exactly how much to place before them. This is one of the secrets in feeding chickens, both old and young is in knowing just how much to feed to keep the chickens in good condition and not overfed, or what quantity to give them and not allow the fowls to become weak or to get too hungry, especially for any length of time. A flock of either old or young chickens can be upset very quickly or gotten out of condition, and it will require several days to get their appetite back or get them in proper condition by which they will consume their proper amount of food again, by giving them too much or by not giving them enough feed and allowing them to gorge their system when they are very hungry.

Another very important thing in the care of chickens is to feed them early enough in the afternoon, especially if you give them grain food so that they can drink plenty water before going to roost. A full crop of water on going to roost at night is very essential and they must have it if they digest their food properly and come off of the roost or out of the brooder bright and feeling good the next morning. A close observer and careful feeder usually always has a nice, healthy lot of chickens, and it is a rare thing that they have very much trouble in any way, shape or form with their fowls.

Yours very truly,

Lewis Roberts

QUESTIONS ASKED AND ANSWERED.

QUESTION.

Atlanta, Ga.

Will you kindly tell me what is the matter with my chickens? I had over sixty little ones. They are about two weeks old. I find one every day with its eyes closed and it seems to be cold. They won't walk but just sit still for two or three days then fall over dead. They seem to suffer so now when I find one this way I kill them. They never open their eyes after they get sick. Now I have lost three hens and two little chickens in one day so I am worried about them. I keep my yard as clean as possible, also chicken house. The large hens were only sick two days, went to roost and I found them dead the next morning. They fell off the roost dead. I feed them on scratch feed morning and evening, give them table scraps and plenty grass. They lay well.

Thanking you for any help you can give me, I am,

MRS. F. E. S.

ANSWER.

It would be best for you to change your feeding method and give a different kind of feed to your chickens. Do not give them table scraps. Give a soft feed of Aunt Patsy or Red Comb mash once a day with some Blackman or Bee Dee Stock Powders in the mash. Evidently they are getting something that has disagreed with them and the same feed does not agree with the little chickens. You can find the trouble by watching closely and by changing things generally you can stop it. There is a cause for it and it will take close observation and judgment to prevent other losses. You can naturally expect some of the little chicks to die as it is impossible to raise all of them.

QUESTION.

Metter, Ga.

Please write me at your earliest convenience what to do for my little turkeys. I feed them bread soaked in milk and squeezed dry, and curd. Their age is from two weeks to two months old. They seem all right until just a day or two before they die. Then they look weak and their gall bladder was as large as two buckshots. Some of them have a sore under their tongue. The sore is green scabby looking.

Thanking you in advance for you rinformation, I am,

MRS. N. D. H.

ANSWER.

Your turkeys have a disease known as black head among turkeys. By using permanganate of potash in the drinking water you can to a certain extent keep it from spreading. Put in enough to make the water a medium pink in color, say one-half grain to one gallon of water. It would be best to discontinue feeding the bread soaked in milk, but feed the curd mixed with corn meal boiled eggs and chopped onions, also whole wheat or ordinary chicken feed. Give them a tre nance where they can get plenty grass and bugs. See that they are free from insects.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

NORTH SIDE HOME BARGAINS

PEOPLE with five or six thousand dollars looking for north side homes have found out if they have looked to any extent that it is almost impossible to get any place in the localities a good, substantial, close-in location for that amount of money. When the word PEACHTREE is mentioned you immediately think of a place from ten thousand dollars up, and that is usually the case.

ELEVENTH, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets are about the ideal north side residence section, for reasons that are familiar to all. On Twelfth street not over three hundred feet from Peachtree, between Eleventh, Fourteenth and West Peachtree, right in the apartment house section, we have on the corner of Crescent avenue a nice seven-room cottage on lot 50x150 feet. This can be had for $5,500. We have also the next two cottages on lots 50x150 each, can be had for $5,500 and $5,000 respectively. Adjoining the corner of Twelfth and Crescent on Crescent avenue we have another seven-room cottage on lot 54x150 feet, 20-foot alley on side and 10-foot alley in rear, that can be had for $4,500. On Thirteenth street, Peachtree and Piedmont avenue, on lot 50x142 feet, we have a seven-room cottage, price $5,000; one-fourth cash can buy any of the above places mentioned, balance one, two and three years. These five places can hardly be beat either for home or speculation and are well worth looking into.

FOR RENT

IN ANSLEY PARK, Inman Park, and West End, all of these our prettiest residence sections, we have some of the most attractive homes and bungalows that we have ever been able to offer, and nearly all of these are thoroughly modern, and up-to-date. It is needless to comment on the neighborhood, all having fine car service very convenient, and surrounded by the best schools and churches. Houses of this type seldom occupy space in a renting list. They are generally owned and occupied by their owners. So this is your chance to get an exceptional home at a very reasonable rent on account of the odd season.

DECATUR, GA.

IN THIS splendid residence town within twenty-five minutes' ride of the city, with two car lines, and four or five accommodations per day, we have three very attractive cottages, with all of the conveniences except gas, all in fine neighborhood, and convenient to the Agnes Scott college. Ranging in price from $22.50 to $30, and on the corner of Clairmont and Ponce de Leon, a well planned modern, ten-room house, on a large beautiful corner lot, to premises; lease, tenant we would make a most reasonable rental.

The Ralph O. Cochran company has sold for M. Roberts to Mrs. W. F. Smith, No. 164 East Merritts avenue, a six room house on a lot 40x88, for $2,200.

INCOME TAX MEETING

Members of the Atlanta Real estate board met at the chamber of commerce at noon Monday to consider the income tax as it might affect holders of real estate. The phases of the tax that were considered are embodied in the following announcement of the meeting.

"There will be a meeting in the chamber of commerce Monday June 9 at twelve noon, for the purpose of framing a protest to be sent to our representatives in congress in reference to certain clauses in the proposed income tax.

"From the information at hand the income tax contains two provisions that will work extreme hardship upon the real estate business.

"First—The tenants are required to hold up the possible amount the landlord may owe the government on income tax until the end of the year. This will create endless confusions and lay the landlords open to suffer loss from irresponsible tenants who may have disappeared in the meantime.

"The other clause taxes the income without crediting the interest charged on mortgages where mortgages exceed the capital stock of the company. As an illustration: A corporation with a $100,000 capital, owning an office building with a $200,000 mortgage thereon, can only take credit for the interest charged on $100,000, thus forcing them to pay on the income represented by the other $100,000, which is in reality an expense and not profit.

"Unless a strong protest is entered at once, these clauses will become law.

"It is therefore very necessary that the parties who feel an interest in this subject meet with us at that time.

"After some discussion, a resolution was adopted authorizing the president and secretary of the board to voice the protest to the two Georgia senators of the board, and the property owners against the tenants and mortgage provisions of the income tax measure.

Saving and Investing

How Postal Savings Have Grown. BY JOHN M. GRESHAM.

At the last tabulation the number of depositors in the postal savings banks had risen above 325,000, and they had an average deposit of a little less than $100 each—the actual amount to their credit was $32,500,000. This was exclusive of $2,389,120, which had been withdrawn for buying postal savings bonds.

In thirty-seven postoffices throughout the country deposits in excess of $100,000 had been received. New York's share, since the system was put in operation, has been $2,366,649, and Chicago $1,685,024. Out of the total of 12,160 offices (and 663 branches), where the banks are established, 251 of them, in the larger cities, hold over three-fifths of the total, or about $21,600,000.

It has turned out, therefore, that the postal savings banks have created a great number of savers. These and the school savings banks are the latest and most successful of the stimulants we have had applied to us as a nation of non-savers. Probably the number of school children who are patrons of some sort of saving system in the school are almost as great at this time as the number of postal savers.

Out of our population of over ninety million, we have a total of just under twenty-one million and a half of savers. One in five, say. That is a small proportion, judged by the experience and statistics of European countries. Four savers out of every ten of population is the ideal which the country will set for itself when the importance of the subject is better understood.

An advertisement used by a New York store not long ago began in this way:

"If Julius Caesar had placed one dollar on deposit at interest, it would today take more money than there is in the world to pay his descendants."

Considering the multiplication of savings systems and facilities, it would be interesting to ask what may happen in the future if all of the savers of today stick!

N. Y. CHURCHES DIFFER ON EUGENIC MOVEMENT

NEW YORK, June 9.—Diverse views of the eugenic movement are held in New York churches. Several addresses on the subject were delivered from local pulpits yesterday. The Rev. George W. Grinton, secretary of the Methodist conference of New York, attacked the activity of churches in the movement as a "ten-day fit of hysteria." He declared the betterment of the race would be furthered best by education and by the enactment of a measure replacing the present marriage license law, which would require examination by state physicians and applicants for a marriage license.

Former Congressman William S. Bennett, in charge of a large meeting at the West End Presbyterian church, where four addresses favoring eugenics were delivered, expressed pride in the fearlessness with which the church was treating the subject, which deserved the strong support of all denominations. Dr. Walter Laidlaw, of the Federation of Churches, recommended the organization of associations that would promote the pre-ordaining of healthy children.

AUCTION!

NORTH BOULEVARD, in Ansley Park Annex

DO YOU KNOW

- Boulevard ends directly at Ansley Park?
- This section is now the most logical in all Atlanta?
- That these 25 lots adjoin the Ansley Park Golf Links?
- That these 25 lots are in the section between Ansley Park and Druid Hills?
- That lots across the road in Piedmont Heights are selling as high as $2,700 and no improvements?
- That land is valuable in this section?
- That one man paid $50,000 for 50 acres 1 1-2 miles beyond?
- That another man was offered $24,000 for 14 acres 1 mile beyond?
- That another man sold 100 acres for $135,000 near these 25 lots that are to be sold?
- That another man values 8 acres 1 mile beyond at $2,500 per acre?
- That another tract of 50 acres two miles beyond sold for $1,500 per acre?
- That a man bought a lot in Ansley Park for $3,000 and sold half of it for $19,000? Did you know that his name is H. S. Harper?
- That Ansley and Ansley Park have made fortunes for Atlanta people?

The fact is--if you knew half the facts these 25 lots to be offered in Ansley Park Annex would be bought in 25 minutes; in fact, we expect to sell a lot a minute when we start selling.

"SHE LOOKS OLD" AND NOT YET 40

Many women fade early, simply because they do not take proper care of themselves. They constantly overdo and overlook those ailments that if not checked rob them of all health and beauty.

At the first symptoms of a function-of disturbance or an organic derangement, if women will only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that great woman's remedy for woman's ills, it will aid the roses to return to your cheeks, sallow looks depart, spirits brighten and backache and headaches caused by such trouble to be known no more.—(Advt.)

LEGAL NOTICES

GEORGIA, Fulton County.

To Honorable Philip Cook, Secretary of State of Georgia:

The petition of A. R. Brittain, G. W. Parker, Maurice H. Thomas, Paul Barringer and P. L. Bloodworth, all residing in Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, shows that petitioners desire to form an insurance company under the name of Southern Industrial Insurance company for the purpose of doing an industrial life, health and accident insurance business in accordance with the laws of the state of Georgia and that the amount of the capital stock of said company shall be fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars divided into shares of the par value of one hundred ($100) dollars each and each one of petitioners agrees to take one share of said capital stock.

The said capital stock may be decreased to any amount not less than twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars and from time to time increased to any amount not exceeding two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars upon the affirmative vote of a majority of all outstanding stock and said company may wind up its affairs and liquidate its assets upon the affirmative vote of a majority of all of the outstanding stock.

Petitioners intend to go forward without delay to take the capital stock and organize said company and they request that they be incorporated under the laws of Georgia.

Petitioners further show that they have given thirty days' notice of their intention to apply for this charter by the publication of this petition once a week for four weeks in The Atlanta Journal, the newspaper publishing the legal advertisements of Fulton county, Georgia, where the office of said company is to be located.

NATIONAL MUSEUM TO GET EGYPTIAN RELICS

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Officials of the National Museum learned with gratification today of the discovery of a collection of Egyptian relics that had been missing for the past thirty years. They were found in the home of Mrs. A. E. Poore in Grafton, Mass., and intimations have been received they will be added to the collection now in the museum.

The relics, according to the report, were brought into the United States in 1881 by Dr. Thomas A. Highland, a naval surgeon, who was a member of a party that brought back the famous obelisk that today stands in Central park, New York. Dr. Highland is said to have spent the last years of his life in the Poore home, to which he removed the collection without notifying either his friends or the authorities of his action. Egyptologists, who knew of the arrival of the collection, had sought it for years.

PARADISE PARK SWEPT BY FIRE AT DAYBREAK

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 9.—All of Upper Manhattan was illuminated and its residents excited shortly before daybreak today, by fire which swept the summer resort known as Paradise Park at Fort George. The blaze started from causes unknown, near the ferris wheel, and soon several large pavilion and amusement halls and a score of small buildings were doomed.

The flames spread rapidly over a large territory and leaped across the street and for a time threatened the Isabella Heimagh home for aged Hebrew women. The loss in the amusement park was estimated at upwards of $100,000.

TWO ARE DROWNED BATHING IN RIVER

(By Associated Press.)

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 9.—Two young men were drowned in the Ochlochnee river Sunday.

William Surratt, sixteen years old, was bathing with a party of friends near the Jones bridge, where the water was high because of recent rains, when he sank into a deep hole.

While in bathing with a friend at Miller's spring on the river, Ed McInnis, twenty-five years old, suddenly sank and drowned before help could reach him. He is believed to have had a cramp, as he was an expert swimmer.

INDUSTRIAL WORKER IS STONED TO DEATH

(By Associated Press.)

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9.—A special to the Post Intelligencer from Wilson Creek, Washington, says:

An unidentified organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World was stoned to death on Saturday during a pitched battle between special members of the I. W. W. and Italian laborers employed by the Great Northern railroad, whom they had tried to persuade to quit work.

When the Italians refused, the I. W. W. party began a stone fight. The leader was struck on the head and left with his skull fractured.

No arrests have been made.

TAMPA CHEF KILLS WOMAN AND SELF

(By Associated Press.)

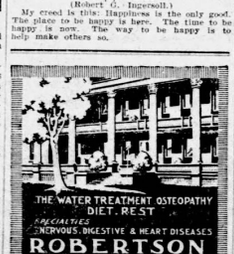
TAMPA, Fla., June 9.—Andres Bruno, a Spanish chef, shot and killed Eleanor Jackson, a vaudeville performer of New York, and then blew out his own brains here Sunday. The bodies were found by the four-year-old child of the woman in a cottage next door to where the child had been left over night. Bruno had been living with the woman in a cottage in Ybor City.

Bruno left three notes, one in English and two in Spanish. In those he stated that he was going to kill the woman because she insisted on staying out late at night after finishing her work.

Happiness

(Robert G. Ingersoll.)

My creed is this: Happiness is the only good. The place to be happy is here. The time to be happy is now. The way to be happy is to help make others so.



SLAPS BOY ON POCKET; DYNAMITE EXPLODES

(By Associated Press.)

JESUP, Ga., June 9.—The fifteen-year-old son of Bud Kennedy, a farmer, living near Jesup, was fatally wounded Sunday morning when a box of dynamite percussion caps exploded in his pocket.

A playmate of the lad slapped him, causing the caps to explode. His leg was almost blown off.

STOP THAT ITCH WITH RESINOL!
Brings Instant Relief and Quickly Clears Away Skin Eruptions.

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or other tormenting, unsightly skin trouble, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry and apply a little Resinol Ointment.

The itching stops instantly; you no longer have to dig and scratch; sleep becomes possible, and healing begins at once. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease and lets the tortured, inflamed skin rest, almost always restoring it to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are also speedily effective in even the stubbornest cases of pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores and piles. Prescribed by doctors for eighteen years, and sold by practically every druggist in the United States. For generous sample of each write to Dept. 43-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—(Advt.)

TECH'S BIG CELEBRATION IS IN FULL SWING NOW

Monday's Program a Busy One—Baccalaureate Sermon Preached Sunday

The celebration of the quarter-centennial of the Georgia School of Technology is in full swing Monday. At 3:30 p. m. United States Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton will deliver the annual literary address in the auditorium of the Tech Y. M. C. A. To this notable occasion, the public is invited. The board of trustees meet at 8 p. m. and will take up only routine business.

From 5 until 7 o'clock in the afternoon, Dr. K. G. Matheson will tender the annual president's reception and an hour later the junior promenade will take place on the campus. The grounds will be lighted brilliantly with electricity. Dancing also will be enjoyed at the crystal palace.

Commencement week and the quarter centennial began Sunday morning with the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class by Dr. Thomas Green, of Chihcago, at St. Luke Episcopal church.

Declaring that altruism is the highest form of living, Dr. Green based his theme upon that idea, supporting his position with sound logic. There is no one, said the speaker, who would care to remove the veil which hides the future.

"It is that uncertainty which makes life worth living," he said.

"And ignorance breeds altruism, because mutual ignorance makes mutual sympathy. Remember, young men, as you go out into the great forum of life, that activity, and activity alone, can bring you happiness and success.

"Jesus, the Son of Man, and the Son of God, looks down upon us and sympathizes with our frailties. 'Tis He to whom we must look for guidance."

In another portion of his sermon Dr. Green told of his travels abroad, when he was running down the current superstitions regarding the hermits of the Himalayas and the much told of magic which they are supposed to practice.

"I'll tell you frankly," he said, "that there is not as much legerdemain among those fakers as there is on the Keeum platform with the average 'good magician,' who shows us successfully that the hand is quicker than the eye."

Attired in cap and gown, the young "grads" congregated at the corner of the North Avenue Presbyterian church and marched in a body to St. Luke's half an hour before the services were to begin. The edifice was filled by 11 o'clock.

BALKAN PEACE DELEGATES FAIL TO REACH TERMS

LONDON, June 9.—The final session of the peace conference between the delegates of the Balkan states and those of Turkey was held today at St. James palace and ended without anything being decided as to the exchange of prisoners or other matters. The delegates agreed to leave all outstanding questions to their respective governments.

PROLONGING LIFE IN DIABETES

On Monday, May 6, 1912, San Francisco dailies published an offer that is unique, as follows:

"To show that Codein containing opium which locks up secretions, commonly used in Diabetes is wrong and that Fulton's Diabetic Compound, which contains no opium or sedatives but promotes secretions, is right, we will say that if four physicians of good standing in this city will send us a Diabetic between fifty and seventy years of age, strong enough to call at our office, showing high specific gravity thirst and a large quantity of sugar, we will with this mild infusion to help the liver oxidize the sugars and starches, attempt to return him in sixty days with 'ilf of the sugar eliminated, with thirst and symptoms largely reduced and on the road to recovery. If we fail we will publish the fact; if we succeed the physician to acknowledge it. We want a patient whom we can both trust. This offer is not in the nature of a contest, but to demonstrate that life can be prolonged or recoveries had in many cases of Diabetes now dying under codein."

If you have Diabetes and are of middle age or over you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Diabetic Compound before giving up. It can be had at Edmondson Drug Co., 11 N. Broad street and 106 N. Pryor street, Atlanta, Ga.

Ask for pamphlet or write to John J. Fulton Company, San Francisco.
